Trip to Costa Rica leaves life-long impressions

By CHARITY B. LEGVOLD

WILMINGTON - Imagine riding a zip line through the Costa Rican rainforest canopy and over fields and rivers, patrolling a beach on a stormy night to protect turtles from poachers, planting trees in a reforestation effort and staying with a Costa Rican family to be immersed in their language and culture while playing soccer in the rain and learning their traditional dances.

For ten students and two teachers, a ten day trip to Costa Rica was not a vacation, it was a life changing experience, an opportunity to volunteer in environmental efforts there, and an incredible chance to experience a culture very different than their own.

From April 15 to 25, 2008 Wilmington High School teachers Teresa Pietro (Spanish) and Dawn Martell (Biology and Biotechnology) chaperoned 10 girls (seven seniors, two juniors and one freshman - whose older sister also made the journey) on one very busy trip to Costa Rica.

The group participated in a program through EcoTeach, a company that creates educational packages with "a rich overview of the environment,

All gave some, some gave all

Wilmington remembers its fallen veterans

By CHARITY B. LEGVOLD

WILMINGTON - In Wilmington a three-day weekend of activities are planned to honor those who gave their lives in service to our country.

Wilmington Director of the Department of Veterans' Services, Lou Cimaglia, spoke of this solemn occasion. "Memorial Day is much more than a three-day weekend that marks the beginning of summer. To many people, especially the nation's thousands of combat veterans, this day, which has a history stretching back all the way to the Civil War, is an important reminder of those who died in the service of their country. It seems especially relevant today as we continually hear of American casualties across the sea in Iraq and Afghanistan."

Cimaglia continued, "Memorial Day provides an occasion to demonstrate a

LaBarre professes ignorance in police interview after murder

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Jurors already had heard hours of audiotape of admitted killer Sheila LaBarre, but on Tuesday they also saw a video of her being interviewed by police as she caressed a pet rabbit soon after she murdered one of her victims.

In the recording, made in March 2006, LaBarre sits in a small room with State Police Det. Richard Mitchell. Also in the room is state police Trooper Jill Rocky, heard off camera questioning LaBarre about the whereabouts of Kenneth Countie, the Massachusetts man LaBarre has since admitted killing in 2006.

Countie had lived in Wilmington just prior to moving in with LaBarre at her horse farm in New Hampshire. He also had family living in Tewksbury. She also has admitted killing a second man, Michael Deloge, but is pleading insanity.

At one point during the tape, LaBarre took out a rabbit she had brought to the police station and caressed its fur as she answered questions. Later in the interview one of the officers noticed the rabbit had urinated on LaBarre's lap.

But LaBarre appeared unfazed as she calmly took some paper towels and wiped her leg.

In the tape, LaBarre refers to Countie as Adam, saying he had changed his name. Her emotions appear erratic, one moment stoic, the next bursting

Wilmington's last Civil War veteran

By LARZ F. NEILSON

Sixty-five years ago, in the middle of World War II, Wilmington's last veteran of the Civil War attended the town's Memorial Day exercises. John H. Simpson was 94 years old.

Mr. Simpson had enlisted in the Union Army when he was 14-years-old on Dec. 8, 1863. He listed his occupation as a shoemaker. He served in the Company D, First Battalion, Heavy Artillery, Massachusetts Volunteers, guarding prisoners of war and deserters. He later became a member of a gun crew manning a 15-inch Columbian gun at Fort Warren in Boston Harbor. He was honorably discharged on Sept. 15, 1865 at Fort Independence on Castle Island in Boston.

BillericaPowerPlant.Org sends petition to Beacon Hill

More than 1700 residents sign measure

By JAYNE W. MILLER

BILLERICA/TEWKSBURY - Local resident group BillericaPowerPlant.org submitted a petition to Governor Deval Patrick this week asking him to support legislation that would help stop the Billerica power plant. More than 1700 residents of the four communities surrounding the proposed peaking power plant signed the petition in just two weeks.

BillericaPowerPlant.org, a "neighbor-based opposition effort," collected 1,572 from residents in Billerica, Chelmsford, Lowell, and Tewksbury and an additional 141 from other nearby communities like Andover, Westford and Wilmington.

"We hope this show of concern will reinforce legislative efforts to continue to oppose the Billerica power plant, and to prohibit plants of this type from being situated within one mile of sensitive locations including homes, schools and child care centers," said the organization in a statement released Tuesday.

Headlining the gold-medal winners was the remarkable Team Works foursome of Kaitlin Hogan of Tewksbury, Ron Stocker of Billerica, Steve Tello of Wilmington and George D'Amelio of Wilmington.

The Team Works event sees students build just about every aspect of a house including the foundation, the bathroom and the wiring.

Tello is the team's carpenter, D'Amelio is the electrician, Hogan is the mason and Stocker is the plumber.

Junior Kyle Newhall of Tewksbury brought home a gold medal as a State Officer Candidate while the trio of Christopher Little, Sara Pietila and Christie Pietila won gold in Community Service.

Also winning gold was Jessica

Fedorchuk of Billerica in Basic Health Care Skills and Marek Clerveau of Billerica in Electronic Technology.

SMART SPENDING IN RETIREMENT

When you retire, you want to make the most of the nest egg you've put away. To some extent, this means making the most of the tax treatment of different funds.

In general, you'll want to tap taxable accounts first, leaving tax-advantaged retirement funds to grow. If there are pension funds (taxable) and Social Security benefits (partially taxable) as an income base, so much the better.

Once you are 59 1/2 years old, you can tap your retirement accounts without penalty. Once you are 70 1/2, you must. These funds are taxable as income. Leave tax-free Roths for last.

If you are retired before you must take distributions from your retirement accounts, it may be possible to trim the tax bill by keeping taxable income below $65,100 for the year and qualify for tax-free dividends and capital gains. Consider moving some IRA funds to Roths, too, while in a lower tax bracket.

When taxes are a consideration, consider consulting with the folks at

Saints Medical Center is the first hospital in Massachusetts to offer Precision-Guided Radiation Therapy for treating Prostate Cancer

GPS for the Body® detects organ motion in real time to deliver targeted radiation therapy

LOWELL - Beginning in June, the Cancer Center at Saints Medical Center will be the first cancer facility in Massachusetts to provide patients with the latest, leading-edge technology to help cure prostate cancer. Using the Calypso® 4D Localization System™, Saints will now offer image-guided radiation therapy delivered to the prostate with continuous, objective, organ-motion detection and monitoring.

Radiation therapy is a noninvasive treatment designed to destroy cancer cells, but the radiation beam must reach the tumor accurately to maximize cure rates and minimize the risk of side effects. "It is very important that radiation target the tumor and avoid unnecessary radiation to healthy tissues," said Matthew Katz, MD, Medical Director of Radiation Oncology at the Saints Cancer Center. "Higher doses of radiation therapy for prostate cancer improve cure rates, so accuracy in treating the prostate is essential to optimize cancer outcomes."

The key feature of the Calypso System is its Beacon® electromagnetic transponders. Each the size of a small grain of rice, three Beacon® transponders are implanted in the patient's prostate before starting radiation therapy. The transponders work in tandem with the other two main components, the Calypso System and the 4D Tracking Station™ and can continuously locate the target during each radiation treatment - in effect, GPS for the Body®. As a result, prostate cancer therapy is even more accurate and takes less time for treatment each day.

"The prostate's location can vary from day to day, and it can even move during treatment," added Dr. Katz. "We already have expertise in using intensity modulated radiation therapy, but with the Calypso System we can now prescribe radiation therapy with sub-millimeter precision. Calypso will allow us to simultaneously improve prostate cancer control and lower the risk of side effects." The most common potential side effects of prostate radiation include impotence, mild to moderate urinary frequency and changes in bowel habits. Serious injury to the rectum and bladder is uncommon but depends upon how much radiation these normal organs receive.

"We are extremely excited to provide our prostate cancer patients with this new, advanced and accurate radiation technology," stated Michael Guley, Saints Medical Center president and CEO. "We believe that men with prostate cancer should learn about their treatment options for the disease and seek the best treatment approach possible," added Mr. Guley. "Our goal is to provide access to the most effective radiation therapy available. The new Calypso System places Saints at the forefront nationally in prostate cancer treatment."

About Calypso® Medical
Calypso Medical Technologies, Inc. ("Calypso") is a Seattle, WA-based privately held medical device company. The Company's proprietary tumor localization system utilizes miniaturized implanted devices (Beacon® electromagnetic transponders) to continuously, accurately, and objectively pinpoint the location of tumors for improved accuracy in radiation therapy. Calypso addresses two major issues in modern radiation oncology: errors in treatment set-up and tumor motion during treatment. In addition, the Calypso® 4D Localization System's non-ionizing electromagnetic guidance has been found to improve work flow efficiency and treatment room utilization. The technology is designed for body-wide cancers commonly treated with radiation therapy, including prostate, breast, lung, head, neck and other radiation therapy target organs.

The products are FDA 510(k) cleared for use in the prostate and prostatic bed.

conference for no other reasons than simple availability, convenience, and the owner was willing to host the event. There were no violations reported at the station.

Among service stations in local communities:

- Burlington - four stations were tested, with no violations reported;
- Reading - six stations were tested, with no violations reported;
- Stoneham - no stations were tested;
- Tewksbury - three stations were tested, with no violations reported;
- Wakefield - one station was tested, with no violations reported;
- Winchester - one station was tested, with no violations reported;
- Wilmington - four stations were tested, with no violations reported;
- Woburn - five stations were tested, with no violations reported;

"Fortunately for consumers, pricing and fuel-grade violations are the exception and not the rule in Massachusetts," said Carroll. "Unannounced inspections have proved to be a good deterrent over the years. Gas stations are playing fair with their customers because they know the state is watching and that there are financial consequences for deceptive practices." Valero Oil of Seekonk was issued a $375 fine for setting its pumps' computer price $0.04 higher than the posted price. Officials demonstrated how octane samples are taken yesterday at the Mobil gas station at 1303 Main Street in Reading, with inspector Martin McHardy showing how the testing procedure is conducted. The Division will continue to conduct spot-checks throughout the summer travel season.

According to AAA, the average price of regular unleaded gas hit a record high for the fourteenth day in a row on Wednesday, reaching $3.79 in Massachusetts and $3.80 across the country. This marks a $0.39 increase in the state's average gas prices and a 9% increase nationwide since just last month. A year ago at this time, the state's average gas price stood at $3.04.

The high price of fuel may force more Massachusetts consumers to vacation closer to home this year. In an effort to keep consumers informed as to how they can save money while traveling this holiday weekend and throughout the summer, the Office of Consumer Affairs and the Division of Standards today urged drivers to follow guidelines from the Federal Trade Commission in order to achieve their car's best mileage.

Drive More Efficiently:

Gas mileage decreases rapidly at speeds above 60 miles per hour. Stop aggressive driving. Avoiding "jackrabbit" starts and stops around town can improve your gas mileage by up to five percent. Avoid unnecessary idling. It wastes fuel, money and pollutes the air. Turn off the engine if you anticipate a lengthy wait.

Combine errands. Several short trips taken from a cold start can use twice as much fuel as one trip covering the same distance when the engine is warm. Carpooling and ride sharing provides savings for you and others.

Using overdrive gears and cruise control improves fuel economy on a highway. Remove excess weight from the trunk. 100 pounds in the trunk can reduce a typical car's fuel economy by up to two percent. Avoid packing items on top of your car. A loaded roof rack creates wind resistance and can decrease fuel economy by five percent.

Maintain Your Car:

Keeping your engine tuned to the manufacturer's specifications can increase gas mileage by an average of four percent.

Keeping tires properly inflated and aligned can increase gas mileage up to three percent.

Change oil regularly. Use the manufacturer's recommended grade of motor oil. Look for oil that carries the performance symbol of the American Petroleum Institute. These motor oils contain friction-reducing additives that can improve fuel economy.

Replacing air filters regularly can increase gas mileage up to ten percent.

Use the Octane Level You Need:

Use the octane level recommended for your car. For most cars, the recommended gasoline is regular octane. In most cases, using a higher octane gas than the manufacturer recommends offers no benefit.

Looking for a New Car? Consider Fuel Efficiency:

Alternative Fuel Vehicles typically operate on fuels such as methanol, ethanol, compressed natural gas, liquefied petroleum gas and electricity as designated by the U.S. Department of Energy. Using alternative fuels may reduce harmful pollutants and exhaust emissions. Federal Trade Commission rules require disclosure of all alternative fuel vehicles' cruising ranges and general descriptive information. It's important to understand the mileage on these vehicles' fuel supplies because some don't travel as far as gasoline-powered vehicles.

Hybrid Electric Vehicles offer another option for car buyers. These vehicles combine the benefits of gasoline engines and electric motors and can be configured to achieve different objectives, such as improved fuel economy and increased power.

LaBarre professes ignorance in police interview after murder

into sobs. LaBarre laughs at one point when questioned about being seen pushing Countie in the Epping Wal-Mart. LaBarre said Countie being in a wheelchair was a joke and that cuts people reported seeing on him were caused by an accident at home.

A few moments into the interview, LaBarre says she believed Countie was a pedophile and had raped many children.

In hours of audiotapes LaBarre made, and that jurors already have heard, LaBarre has accused Countie and a number of other people with molesting children.

The psychologist testifying as a defense witness said the obsession with sexual abuse is a delusion, a sign that LaBarre is mentally ill and was insane when she murdered Countie and Deloge. When questioned about where Countie went or what happened to him, LaBarre often changes the subject. She tells police that Countie left while she was sleeping and that she thought he was contemplating suicide. The investigators also question LaBarre about large bones police found in a burn pile in her yard days earlier. LaBarre mentions she had cremated a rabbit, but when pressed says she does not know how the bones got there. These bones later were identified as human.

Letters to the editor

Letters to the editor

Making a difference

Dear Editor,

The Local Heroes Program and many other families and friends from Wilmington have been sending service members many great CARE packages and letters in Iraq. Lou Cimaglia has done an outstanding job! I wanted to take this opportunity to thank them for all of their thoughts, prayers, donations, and their time.

Local Heroes: Thank you for everything that you have done!

A small team of US soldiers and I are advisors to an Iraqi Army unit. We live and work with the Iraqi soldiers. From the number of packages I have received, I thought I was the only guy in Massachusetts over here. I have taken the liberty of giving a lot of the CARE package goods to the Iraqi soldiers and their families. I didn't think you would mind.

Many people in Iraq have never known what the words honesty and charity really mean. In the past, anything that they have received has come with a price. With your help, my team has been able to give them food, candy, snacks, children's books, and some nice clothes. You have brought a lot of smiles to a lot of faces. I think that slowly they have realized that we expect nothing in return, and we offer these things without any expectation of favor.

Thank you for that opportunity and helping us make a difference one soldier and one family at a time. So thank you from the bottom of my heart for supporting all of our troops and the Iraqi people.

Sincerely,
Pete Campbell
(Wilmington native)

Project needs reconsideration

Dear Editor,

In the news recently there was an article about the Concord River water that would be needed for the proposed Billerica power plant. The proponents to the project were stated as saying that they could use less water by "improving the plant" and conserving. I ask this question - if the energy plant hasn't even gone up yet, why would it already have to be improved? I would think that a plant of this nature should already have perfected plans. Improve something that hasn't even started yet?

The proponent wants to purchase 40 million gallons of water a year from the Concord River, as it would be needed to "control pollution" and cool the turbines (6 jet engines). It seems like another very large drawback associated with this project.

At a recent Billerica town meeting it was mentioned that water conservation would have to be considered in order to offset what the plant would be using. It doesn't make sense to me - it's like saying we're going to be using up a huge amount of your water, so now use less.

At this particular time, the nation happens to be in tune with many environmental issues and concerns. To plan to displace millions of gallons of water, one of our natural resources, annually, for the next twenty years, and then insinuate that the Billerica residents have to compensate for it, doesn't make sense.

I can't imagine retrofitting up to 3,000 homes with low-flow shower heads and toilets, as recommended by the engineering firm. How practical and feasible is that? The logistics alone make me wonder.

I am all for energy efficient appliances and fixtures, but if they are to be mandated, that certainly should not be done at a local level, if at all. Besides, that only addresses water conservation, not energy conservation. Also, what about the other 350 cities and towns in MA - why should Billerica overturn their bathroom fixtures because they're forced to, due to an energy plant?

Much of the general public is catching on to buying rain barrels and composting and so forth, out of an interest in what they can do personally to help the environment. If people make changes in their homes, it is best that they do it because they want to. It should be an ongoing process, done at their own pace.

If the water supply is going to be affected so much that these ideas of retrofitting bathrooms is a consideration, maybe the project really needs to be reconsidered.

To know at the onset that the water supply will be affected severely enough that plans need to be put into place to mitigate the impact, is an indication that the river just can't handle it.

Global warming

Dear Editor,

Global Warming is the most urgent environmental threat facing the planet today. And this is a tremendous opportunity to create the clean energy jobs of the 21st century.

The United States, to stay competitive in the 21st century, must find new solutions to make our economy stronger, and take control of climate change.

I urge all Americans to support strong global warming legislation that sets a strong cap on America's global warming pollution and new technologies.

Congress must pass strong global warming legislation immediately.

Thank you for the support!

Dear Editor,

The Dewing Elementary School Parent Advisory Council would like to extend their thanks to Tewksbury Hardware and Mahoney's Garden Center for the generous donation of supplies for Spring Clean Up Day, Sunday May 18. Parents and students worked together to gather trash, plant bulbs, clear poison ivy, and plant perennials and shrubs. Tewksbury Hardware generously donated paint and materials to freshen the entrance to the school, and Mahoney's gave countless perennials to brighten the front planting beds.

The process can definitely test one's patience

Dear Editor,

I congratulate all those who attended town meeting. Again, a small part of our population made choices for Wilmington's future. This group demonstrated an ability to listen and interpret the English language very well and approved many important articles after listening to the pros and cons. I agree, the cons had a tendency to repeat their points in too frequent trips to the microphones.

It is always disappointing that so few citizens attend. It is infu-riating to see far too many sign in as voters, vote their self-interested article and then leave. The process can test our patience.

It's not a big deal for citizens of a town to be required to vote once a year and give up one day a year to participate in the financial management and planning of the place you live.

We survived. We learned more about our neighbors.

Sincerely,
Ann L. Yurek

WEF event a huge success

Dear Editor,

On behalf of the Wilmington Educational Foundation, I wish to thank everyone who participated in our Springtime Vendor Fair/Parents' Night Out, held at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Friday, April 11th. #### Things going from bad to worse, on all fronts

Dear Editor,

I first would like to thank those who wrote in votes for me in the past election. Although the redevelopment authority sounds intriguing, it is to my understanding they have not met in years, so I declined the position. I also recently learned I received some write-in votes for the Board of Selectmen. Since the Town Clerk has informed me it is not incumbent upon her to report write in votes with the general election results, and several people have asked me, the total was 12 across five precincts. Thank you! I do appreciate the gesture, every vote counts.

Now, I would like to address the situation at 362 Middlesex Avenue. As some of you may already know, there was a Town Meeting warrant article by the landowner to rezone the existing commercial zone to Central Business District (CBD). You may have also heard about the disconcerting events that unfolded at Town Meeting regarding the attempt to rezone this property. A resident in the audience pointed out that the new building proposed to be rezoned from commercial to CBD to allow housing was in a residential district, not commercial. To the Town Moderator's credit, he tried to resolve the issue with the Planning Board, Planning Director, Town Counsel, and the Building Inspector.

How could the Planning Board, Planning Director and Building Inspector overlook such a detail? It was not the first time these types of details have been overlooked on this property. I'm sure you all may recall how I questioned the Planning Board, Planning Director and the Building Inspector on their "oversights" when a used car license was in front of the Board of Selectmen. According to Town Counsel's opinion I was right about the situation! (Advisory Opinion # 32). But there was no accountability, so here we are three years later and another debacle.

This new commercial building is in the back portion of the property, behind Dunkin Donuts, in a residential zone. No one disputes this. The building inspector attempted to justify issuing the building permit by saying when a zoning line divides a property, ".....the regulations applicable to either zoning district may be extended to as much of the lot that lies within in 30 feet of the zoning district boundary....." The Town Crier reiterated this in its "editor notes" in response to comments regarding this issue in the Your Two Cents section last week.

The building inspector did not mention that the rest of the bylaw 2.3.4 states: ".....provided the lot has the required minimum frontage on a street in the zoning district from which the regulations are being extended." According to the Assessors Map in the Town Warrant that was presented at Town Meeting, the commercial portion of the property has only 108 feet of frontage on Middlesex Ave., where a minimum of 125 feet is required. That means the 30 feet cannot be used. Now I have not yet seen the site plans for this newly constructed commercial building. I suppose the Assessor's Maps could be inaccurate, nonetheless this is what was shown at Town Meeting. Looking at this building, behind Dunkin Donuts, from the street, I doubt the whole building is even within the 30 feet of the zoning line, assuming that line should be allowed. If my interpretation is correct, if what I say is true, what now? Why is this continuing to happen? Don't we deserve better? So many questions. Who will get the answers? The residents? The Board of Selectmen?

I think the Board of Selectmen should ask for an opinion from Counsel, or hold someone accountable if I am right. Or maybe just going straight to the Attorney General's office is in order?

If others are as disgusted as I am with the new Big Box Store zoning passed at Town Meeting, let me know, I am considering getting signatures to call a Special Town Meeting to rescind the article. Don't you think we need to do something? Things appear to be going from bad to worse, on all fronts!

A message from the future about energy

Dear Editor,

The proposed power plant for Billerica, MA is not what this region of Massachusetts (or anywhere for that matter) needs right now. In a time where gas prices are soaring, towns such as Tewksbury, Billerica, Chelmsford, and Lowell are continuing to grow, and talk of global climate change and global warming are increasing, a 348 Megawatt, fossil-fuel-burning power plant does not seem to fit well into the equation.

Fossil fuels are clearly not the answer for meeting our energy and fuel needs; they are limited resources that are costly to transport, harmful to human health, and detrimental to our environment and climate. I am 20 years old, and I know that in a couple decades from now, I will have a lot of trouble explaining to my kids why we were still building massive power plants that burn coal and fossil fuels at this point in time, when so many better renewable options are becoming available. The damage done to the community (damaged roads, increased traffic), public health (air and water pollution), and the environment (doubled carbon emissions) will far outweigh the limited economic gain and the one job position (the plant will be unmanned, read: not providing jobs for the community) that the plant will supposedly bring in to the town of Billerica (NOT any of the surrounding towns).

I am mostly concerned about the health impacts from air pollution for myself, my friends, and my family in Billerica, Lowell, Tewksbury, and Chelmsford, as well as the harm to our water source here in Tewksbury due to threats of pollution and shortage.

Let's think about what is best for the future and our community before we move forward with any local development plans, such as the Billerica Power Plant. Please join me and contact your representatives and local officials to let them know of your concerns.

Signed,
A Member of the Future Generation that is going to have to deal with impacts of present decisions,
Ashley Trull

A grandmother's prayer

By Janet Ringdahl

As my head lays on my pillow
In my mind I call your name
I pray that you are listening
Will you forgive me once again

I am sorry I've been distant
I feel lost and so confused
I only call you when I need you
It's no wonder you feel used

I'm not asking for myself though
Nor for money, wealth or fame
I'm just praying for some people
I don't even know their names

They are fathers, mothers, daughters
Some are sons, all brave and true
They have gone to save our country
They're the true Red, White & Blue

Is it fair my loving Father
That their lives could end today
And the only thing that I can do
Is close my eyes and pray

Is it fair one man's decision
Can ultimately decide their fate
Is it fair he has the power
Is his reason 'fear' or is it 'hate'

In this world there's little children
I have grandkids of my own
I pray this war will end soon
Long before they too have grown

So I'm asking for so many Thousands have already been laid to rest
End this war and its destruction
Please put an end to this whole mess

An election is upon us
People are looking for the light
All are fighting for what they believe in
What their hearts tell them is right

Please forgive us for our absence
Then reach for you in times of need
But the world around us is crumbling
Due to selfishness and greed

I pray we've learned our lesson
Although it took us quite a while
Will you stay close and protect us
'Til we get thru this next trial

Through your patience and understanding
As you watch us from above
Please guide us through this battle
With your never ending love

Amen

From Wilmington's Town Clerk...

Offers key amendments to help cities and towns

Sen. Tarr tackles municipal issues in budget debate

Boston-Senate - Assistant Minority Leader Bruce Tarr (R-Gloucester) is working in this week's Senate debate of the FY'09 state budget to assist cities and towns with additional resources and the tools to manage those resources wisely. Tarr is offering several amendments, including those that would:

- Restore funding levels for Chapter 70 educational aid to local school districts to at least the level they were at in fiscal years 2002 or 2003.

- Create a $7 million "pothole", or Chapter 70 Foundation Reserve, account in the Senate version of the budget to assist local school districts with extraordinary costs which may arise in fiscal year 2009.

- Provide municipalities with strong management tools, such as:

- A new system of billing the federal government for Medicaid services provided to students, which could yield more than $50 million for special education

- The opportunity to conduct "reverse auctions" for contracted goods and services, reducing their cost

- A system of municipal incentive grants to fund innovation and cost-saving reforms in local government

The package of municipal management tools, offered as a single amendment, is the result of extensive discussions with a legislative working group which included members of the House and Senate, and collaboration with Senator Sue Tucker (D-Andover). The group also had discussions with local officials, the Massachusetts Taxpayers Foundation and the Massachusetts Municipal Association.

"Cities and towns are facing significant challenges in providing essential services like public safety and education," said Tarr. He added that "These amendments would provide not only resources but the means to ensure efficiency in the use of those resources."

Your Two Cents...

Thumbs down to the kids that thought it would be a good idea to write on the playground at the Shawsheen school. The young kids should not have to see the profanity all over THEIR play area. You know who you are and what you wrote, I think that I speak for all the parents that take their kids to that park when I say GROW UP!

Wilmington

Thank you for supplying additional information regarding zoning laws for structures built on split zoning districts, as it pertained to Article 25, under 2.3.4 of the zoning bylaw. I think it's helpful for residents to have a clearer picture of what that bylaw allows. But I believe it was also discussed, in some capacity, at the town meeting that the structure in question exceeds the 30ft allowance of the boundary. It was also mentioned that no special permits were applied for or issued by the Planning Board. I found the zoning bylaw in question (not being familiar in general) regarding the 30ft extension on split zoned property, and noticed it also states 'provided the lot has the minimum frontage on a street in the zoning district from which the regulations are being extended.' I believe the minimum is 125ft for GB, but the parcel map in the warrants looks as if this property has only 108 ft. So, it still looks as if the building in question is still non-compliant, if I am to understand it correctly.

My sole intention for last week's 'Your two Cents' column was to promote awareness of that discovery, which I found to be an interesting & noteworthy topic.

Local students raised an amazing $9,155

TEWKSBURY - On Sunday, May 4th, for the 9th year in a row, students from The Self-Defense Institute in Tewksbury united with friends, family, coworkers and neighbors in the spirit of giving. They walked (in the rain) the 20-mile Walk For Hunger route, which threads through Boston, Brookline, Newton, Watertown, and Cambridge.

Due to those amazing funds raised, The Self-Defense Institute ranked as a top organization along with Blue Cross Blue Shield, Raytheon, Teradyne, Arbella, Phillips Academy, Citizens Bank of MA, and Harvard University as shown on the Project Bread's Webpage Public Announcement.

This support will help provide nutritious meals for those who would otherwise go without, right here in Massachusetts. Project Bread's 20-Mile Walk for Hunger is the country's oldest continual pledge walk and the largest one-day fundraiser to alleviate local hunger.

A special thank you goes out to the walkers from The Self-Defense Institute: Helen, Mark, Sean Bender; Chris, Megan, Nora Chan; Jacob Coleman, Geoffrey & Ken Ducharme; Ryan & Lucie Frautten; Robert Grant, Kayla Hourihan, Ben & Kate Lauer; Kyle & Russ LeBlanc; Karen & Rick Lippincott; Charlie Marquis; Nancy McKean; Trevor & Chris Parece; Jimmy

From the Wilmington Board of Health... West Nile Virus & Eastern Equine Encephalitis

WILMINGTON - The mosquito season will soon be upon us and with mosquitoes comes the threat of Eastern Equine Encephalitis and West Nile Virus. Once again the Board of Health would like to pass along the recommendations of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health concerning protecting yourself and your family from these mosquito bourn illnesses. MDPH recommends the public follow these recommendations throughout the summer season to reduce risk of infection.

Remove standing water near homes, clean gutters and drains, change water in bird-baths frequently and properly

maintain swimming pools

Limit your time outdoors when you notice mosquito activity (primarily at dusk and dawn)

If you remain outdoors while mosquitoes are biting, wear clothing that provides more coverage of your skin (such as long sleeved shirts and pants)

Use mosquito repellents containing DEET. Repellents should not be used on infants. Use mosquito netting to cover carriages and playpens

Check window and door screens to assure they are in good repair

For further information, see the Board of Health website at www.mhoa.com/boh

Adult Department News What to Read Next

Need help figuring out what to read next? Staff at the reference desk can offer great suggestions and one-on-one help. You can also use the resources in the "What to Read Next?" collection near the fiction stacks. Here you will find a wide variety of lists, reviews, and guides that can make choosing your next read a cinch. Don't leave the library without a couple of good reads in hand!

Chris Bohjalian's New Book
Chris Bohjalian, author of Before You Know Kindness, (the 2007 Wilmington Reads book) has recently published his newest book Skeletons at the Feast. The book has received rave reviews and has just made the New York Times bestseller list. The following are excerpts from some of the reviews: For more information go to www.chrisbohjalian.com. "Powerful... Skeletons at the Feast positively resonates with authenticity. I've read several accounts of that small part of World War II, but it took this novel to bring home to me, most clearly and vividly, the dreadful ordeal these people endured...[The Holocaust's] evils are more palpable when its victims come to life—and, in so many cases, death—in the pages of a well-crafted novel. Bohjalian allows the reader to know them and identify with them in a way that no photographs or program on the History Channel can match."

— A.C. Hutchinson, The Times-Argus

"Chris Bohjalian has written his finest novel to date, set against the brutal, waning days of World War Two in Eastern Germany...Skeletons at the Feast is Bohjalian's masterpiece. The power of the narrative will stay with the reader long after it is put down. Inspired by an actual World War II diary the author read, it will stand as one of the best novels ever written about one of the most brutal periods in history."

— Marvin Minkler, The North Star Monthly

Color Printing

The library now has a color printer available in the computer area on the first floor. All color copies cost 25 cents.

One good deed deserves another - Hero Firefighter Bob Beck (center), of Wilmington, claims North Reading Rotary's raffle grand prize, a 42" Sansui Plasma HDTV from Doyon's TV and Appliance Center in Reading. Beck and fellow firefighters saved a choking guest at a Chamber event at the Hillview on April 30, later bought a ticket to the Rotary raffle and won the drawing at the North Reading Rotary Legends Forever event at the Hillview on May 2. ## Bob Beck wins North Reading Rotary's grand prize

READING - Now, here's a story! On April 30, Reading Firefighter Bob Beck of Wilmington and fellow firefighters Ryan Buckley, Sean Devlin and Scott Dole attended the Reading-North Reading Chamber of Commerce Outstanding Citizens' Award Dinner at the Hillview Country Club in North Reading to see their co-worker Brian Ryan receive an award from Chief Greg Burns naming him Reading's 2008 Firefighter of the Year. They were looking forward to an off-duty evening of relaxation and socialization. A guest at the event choked and lost consciousness and Beck and the other firefighters were quick to get back into their working mode. After some tense moments, they cleared the guest's airway. He regained consciousness and was able to breathe on his own. North Reading firefighters arrived at the scene to transport the victim to Winchester Hospital.

Later in the evening North Reading Rotary Secretary Steve May who was a guest at the Chamber event approached Beck to congratulate him on his rescue and as an afterthought asked Beck if he'd like to buy a raffle ticket to a Rotary event being held at the Hillview just two nights later on May 2. Beck purchased two tickets. On Friday evening when Rotary President-Elect Eric Evans pulled the winning ticket - who should win? You guessed it - Bob Beck won himself a 42" Sansui Plasma HDTV from Doyon's TV and Appliance Center in Reading. He said it would make a perfect Mother's Day gift for his mother. Bet she was pleased!

By the way, the choking guest was held overnight at Winchester Hospital, examined and released. He's doing fine.

Sat. June 14th, Linden Tree Coffeehouse Season finale

An Evening with Peggy Seeger

WAKEFIELD - On Sat. June 14th, at 8 pm the Linden Tree Coffeehouse @ the Wakefield Unitarian-Universalist Church will complete its 23rd season of acoustic music with an evening with Peggy Seeger. Peggy is a delightful performer. She is a wonderful artist, down-to-earth, caring and considerate. She can be political and she can be downright funny. Her music is a wonderful blend of traditional and original songs. This is a chance to hear her tongue-in-cheek look at life in an cozy venue.

Born in 1935 into one of North America's foremost folk music families, Peggy was well schooled in the classic European music traditions. Between the ages of 12 and 35 she learned to play piano, guitar, five-string banjo, autoharp, Appalachian dulcimer and English concertina. She cut her first record when she was 18 and in her early twenties she became a professional touring performer. Her travels took her to the Soviet Union, China, Poland, Belgium, France, Holland and the Scandinavian countries.

In 1959 she settled in London with Ewan MacColl. The MacColl/Seeger duo was at the forefront of the British folksong revival for the ensuing three decades. Their innovative work in that revival incorporated folk techniques in songwriting and strengthened the ties between traditional and political music. The Radio Ballads, created for the BBC, were a turning point in her life, when music and politics melded together, when she learned to arrange music for radio scripts and to direct musicians and singers in the studio. She and MacColl carried the lessons learned into work with Critics Group, when she began to write songs and train singers and instrumentalists.

Considered to be one of N. America's finest revival singers of traditional songs, she has also written music for films, television and radio. She has collaborated on books of folksongs, has made 22 solo LPs and collaborated with other performers on more records than she can remember. In the mid-1970s she began to concentrate on feminist and ecological issues. Her best-known songs are The Ballad of Springhill and I'm Gonna Be an Engineer.

After Ewan's death in 1989, she formed the singing duo No Spring Chickens with Irene Pyper-Scott. In 1995 she and Jim Lloyd (producer of the BBC programme Folk on 2) won the Sony Silver award for a 6-part series of half-hour shows dedicated to Peggy's life. A seventh program was recorded in 1996.

In 1994 she moved back to the USA. She lived in Asheville, North Carolina until 2006, when she moved to Boston to take up a teaching position at Northeastern University. She records exclusively for Applesseed Recordings, producing a new album every 18 months or so. Her 2008 CD is Volume 3 of her HOME TRILOGY, Bring Me Home as well as a 2-CD set, Three Score and Ten, a distillation of recordings from her 70th birthday, held on May 29 2005 in the Queen Elizabeth Hall in London. She now tours solo as a singer and lecturer.

Tickets to this special Linden Tree Coffeehouse show will be $15 at the door. Thanks to support in part by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, Wakefield Council, Home made baked goods and beverages will be sold prior to the show and during intermission. The Linden Tree Coffeehouse is located at 326 Main Street, Wakefield, opposite the Post Office. For reservations: LindenTree85@comcast.net, 781-246-2836, leave your name, number of tickets, and a Saturday phone number. For more information about the Linden Tree, www.LindentreeCoffeehouse.org.

Winchester Hospital sponsoring free Osteoporosis screenings

WINCHESTER - Osteoporosis, or porous bone, is characterized by low bone mass and structural deterioration of bone tissue. While the disease can affect any bone, the hip, spine and wrist are more likely to become increasingly fragile and susceptible to fracture. Bones can break as a result of a minor fall or even a simple sneeze or cough. Spinal or vertebral fractures also have serious consequences, including loss of height, severe back pain and deformity.

To help area residents with a diagnosis of osteoporosis and appropriate treatment, Winchester Hospital is offering free osteoporosis screenings for men and women age 20 and older. The screenings will take place on Tuesday, June 3, 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., in the first floor Nurse Aide Training Lab at Baldwin Park I, 12 Alfred Street in Woburn.

According to the National Osteoporosis Foundation, an estimated 10 million Americans (80 percent of whom are women) currently have osteoporosis and nearly 34 million more have low bone mass, placing them at increased risk for developing the disease. Additionally, women can lose up to 20 percent of their bone mass in the five to seven years following menopause, making them more susceptible to osteoporosis. While osteoporosis is a public health threat to 55 percent of Americans of both genders 50 years of age and older, it can strike at any age.

In order to optimize bone health and help prevent osteoporosis, the National Osteoporosis Foundation recommends that people get the daily recommended amounts of calcium and vitamin D; engage in regular weight-bearing and muscle-strengthening exercise; and avoid smoking and excessive alcohol usage. Although there is no cure for osteoporosis, the disease's progression can be detected through a bone density test and treated with medication.

To register for a free osteoporosis screening, call Jennifer Donnelly at Winchester Hospital's Community Health Institute at (781) 756-4720. To learn more about Winchester Hospital, visit www.winchesterhospital.org.

Pre-Schoolers at Abundant Life get special dance lessons

WILMINGTON - Pre-school students at Abundant Life Christian Learning Center received some unique dance instruction last week. Using the Abundant Life activity room, Lorraine Spada of the Spada School of Dance in Wilmington led several groups of students in some very basic and age-appropriate dance moves. The children were started slowly with flexibility exercises and jumping techniques. Following this, Spada taught how to follow specific dance directions. She then had the children marching to upbeat music. The students marched with great intensity all around the space, sometimes following a leader, sometimes doing their own thing. Eventually, to slower music, the children slinked across the floor like caterpillars until each child reached a set of wings located at the far end of the room. The children grabbed their wings and were guided in free dancing all around the room, pretending to be butterflies. "This type of movement is a different type than they normally get." Explained Sherrie Patrie, Abundant Life Learning Center Director, "it is great for the children to be able to explore different methods of movement and expression." Children who expressed interest in dance were given coupons for lessons at the Spada School. "This type of experience really is very enjoyable for the children," Patrie continued.

The Abundant Life Learning Center is located at 173 Church Street in Wilmington. It was established for infants, toddlers, and pre-schoolers to provide a safe, secure and stimulating environment within a Christian context, which would affirm God's love and values and at the same time provide a happy place in which to learn and grow. ## Wildwood C.A.R.E.S. Lemonade Stand

The Wildwood C.A.R.E.S. (Children's Arts, Recreation & Enrichment Services) children and staff have decided to make a difference in the lives of children with cancer. The Wildwood C.A.R.E.S. kindergartners chose to raise money for Alex's Lemonade Stand Foundation for childhood cancer research. They will host a special Lemonade Stand.

The event will be held at Wildwood Early Childhood Center -Front Entrance 181 Wildwood Street, Wilmington MA on Monday June 9, 2008 3:00 p.m.-5:30 p.m. (Rain Date Tuesday June 10th).

The children at Wildwood C.A.R.E.S. approached the staff and asked if they could have a lemonade stand during the after school program and donate the money to charity. The staff was staggered at the kindergartners' eagerness and compassion. We then asked the Superintendent, Joanne Benton, if this is something we could do and she was extremely supportive! She directed us towards a website, www.alex-lemonade.org.

Alex's Lemonade Stand Foundation (ALSF) emerged from the front yard lemonade stand of cancer patient Alexandra "Alex" Scott (1996-2004). At the age of 4, Alex announced that she wanted to hold a lemonade stand to raise money to help find a cure for all children with cancer. Alex's Lemonade Stand Foundation is able to sustain the mission of Alex Scott to raise awareness and funds to find a cure for childhood cancer in several different ways.

After explaining Alex's story and giving the children more information on the ALSF, the Wildwood C.A.R.E.S. program knew this organization was just right! The children have been busy ever since making signs and getting ready for this special event!

Dr. Shaibani's Patient Says:
"I cried. She listened.
Now I have my smile
back-forever!"

Maybe you are like me. I wasn't quite sure why I put off my dental work. I mean there was the "kids first" thinking. There was always a greater financial priority than getting my teeth done. There wasn't constant pain, just an occasional flare up followed by a midnight call to my last dentist; often a trip to the ER, and a lot of weekends on prescription pain killers. Maybe it was the embarrassment I felt. One year led to another and before I knew it, I hadn't had a regular check up, other than occasional extractions for the past eight or nine years. It got to the point where I didn't even want to show the dentist. There were spaces, obvious cavities-a total mess! I thought to myself "Could she have anyone else this bad?"

I don't want to go over the top but I have to tell you Dr. Shaibani's work has been nothing short of a miracle.

First of all the office is totally comfortable. Staff members make you feel like you have known them for years. You will hear, "would like some coffee, or may I hang your coat." It is just good old-fashioned hospitality. Then there is the chairside manner of Dr. Shaibani. In sixty seconds I knew I was in the right place. I felt safe and confident. I totally trusted her and her amazing skills-and they are amazing! I'm still not sure what pushed me over the line to finally get help.

It's only been four weeks and I can't even remember the smile I used to hide so skillfully with my right hand. I'm not embarrassed, I'm actually proud of how I look. I wrote this because I wanted others to know others who may be suffering like I did for so long-to realize you are one phone call away from what will be the best thing you have ever done for yourself. If you want to be treated by an amazing dentist who feels like a friend do what I did!

From our Wilmington Middle School Correspondent...

"King" of the Nurses

By SYDNEE RUSSO

WILMINGTON - She has been working as a staff member at Wilmington Middle School for the past eight years after serving as school nurse at North Intermediate School for the prior 12 years. She helps approximately 60 to 90 students every school day and enjoys helping them all. The school nurse, Rita King, has many responsibilities that some people don't even take into consideration as part of her job. On a daily basis, she and fellow school nurse, Terri Furlong, help children with headaches and stomach pains and work with students with attention deficit issues, seizure disorders, diabetes and autism.

Nursing can be a rewarding experience both professionally and personally. "My children were all in school, and I was a pediatric night nurse in a hospital for almost 20 years. I spent a lot of time working with children of all ages with many different illnesses. I felt it would be better for my family for me to be working the same hours as their schedules," said King.

Her love of children has kept her in nursing for over 35 years, but the medical field wasn't her first choice. As she advanced through high school, she had a change of heart. "Since I was a young girl, I loved children. I always wanted to be a mom and a teacher. After high school, I decided to go to nursing school," King stated. "Twenty years ago, I had the opportunity to become a school nurse, which brought my nursing and the school setting together."

The middle school age group ranges between 11 and 15 years old and King feels that is the best group to work with because children are transitioning to young adults during this period. Working well with children is an important quality for school nurses. King said: "I don't think anything is difficult in my job as I love working with the students. I find it rewarding and enriching." There have been changes in school nursing over the years. "There are more and more children with chronic illnesses now who must be seen by the nurse on a daily basis. This makes the job a little more challenging than before," explained King.

King received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing from Emmanuel College in Boston and is a registered nurse. Over the years, King has offered tips to keep children healthy including eating breakfast, washing hands often, sneezing into the elbow instead of letting germs fly freely around a classroom, wearing protective clothing while performing activities including a helmet when bicycling and staying away from drugs, cigarettes and alcohol. Keeping children healthy is the favorite part of King's job. "I am very pleased and happy with all facets of my job, but keeping the children healthy is the most rewarding part," said King.

Sydnee is a sixth grader in Discovery House at the Wilmington Middle School. She is the latest student to take advantage of a Town Crier correspondence program initiated by Wilmington Middle School teacher Michael Mahoney and enthusiastically agreed to by the Town Crier. This program allows students the opportunity to have their news articles published in the newspaper. We look forward to bringing our readers installments of the series, in which sixth grade Wilmington students will report on the news of the day. Students interested in participating are encouraged to contact Mr. Mahoney in Room 125.

Wilmington's last Civil War veteran

Report said that Mr. Simpson was born in North Reading on June 28, 1849. A story in the Town Crier in 1967 reported that he was born in South Reading, which became Wakefield. However, the genealogical history of Wakefield, Reading and North Reading by Eaton Lilley does not list him among the citizens of those three towns who volunteered during the Civil War.

Census records find the family living in Reading in 1850. His father was William, a shoemaker. His mother was Phebe. There were four children, George, 10, Charles, 8, Mary Ann, 5 and John H., 1. The 1860 census found Phebe and the children living in North Reading. She was listed as Phebe Wescott, and they were living in a house owned by Esra Damon.

In 1870, the census of New Boston, N.H. listed John H. Simpson, 21, and Phebe Simpson, 66. The ages are correct, although it is not known what took them to New Hampshire.

In 1878, he married Anna L. Swain, and the couple settled in Wilmington. The 1880 census listed John and Anna, and also Phebe. They lived in an apartment in the old Pearson Tavern, also known as the Levi Swain house on Salem Street, next to Ballardvale Street. Anna Swain was the daughter of Levi Swain, Jr. and Louisa (Pearson).

He went to work for the Bond Cracker Company, an old Wilmington firm. Later he worked in a tannery, and was a special officer and fire warden for the town of Wilmington. In 1909, he went to work for the new North Reading Sanitarium, a tuberculosis hospital, driving a team to and from the North Wilmington Depot with mail for the patients and personnel. After ten years, he retired at age 70.

He was known as "Uncle John" to both young and old. The Simpsons had no children, but several grand-nieces and nephews. Mrs. Simpson was a first cousin to the Swain sisters, Henrietta and Carolyn, for whom the Swain School is named.

Mr. Simpson was a charter member of the Reading Post 194 of the Grand Army of the Republic (GAR), a veterans' organization founded after the Civil War. He was one of four surviving members when it disbanded in 1933.

Mr. Simpson was the holder of the Boston Post Cane, which was presented to the oldest resident of each town in New England, a tradition started by the Boston Post newspaper. Some towns still have the cane and continue the tradition, although in many places, the cane has been lost. Wilmington has apparently lost track of its cane.

He rode in the Memorial Day parade on May 30, 1943, a month before his 94th birthday, six months before his death. His picture was taken with two children, Sarah Ellen Higginbotham and Robert Babine, who placed a wreath at the Soldier's Monument in memory of those lost in World War II.

Sarah "Sally" Cosman is still in Wilmington. For many years, she was the cheerleading coach at Wilmington High School. Robert Babine was the son of John W. Babine, the town tree warden.

language and culture of each of our destinations," according to the website at www.ecoteach.com.

The program took these students outside of their comfort zones, immersed them in a Spanish speaking culture different than their own and presented other opportunities and challenges. Many girls did things they say they would never have thought they could do. Junior Erica Savage felt that way about the zip line saying, "Even though I was scared to death at first, it was something I never would have done and it was truly a once in a lifetime opportunity."

Everyone raved about the zip line adventure. Several girls even saw a toucan fly by while on the zip line. Senior Lindsay Clark said, "It was amazing to see and hear the nature around us!"

Safety being the utmost concern for all travelers, EcoTeach provided the group with two program guides, one of which was the bus driver who was also a paramedic. Pietro and Martell credit the program staff with taking good care of the group, saying they even had a back-up plan when inclement weather closed off one of the areas the group was supposed to visit. Even the youngest member of the group, 14-year-old Lauren Cole, said that she always felt safe and when asked her favorite part of the trip she smiled and said, "Everything!"

Senior Kristyn Brophy spoke highly of the program guides saying, "I loved the fact that our tour guides weren't afraid to get to know us. Moises, our guide, and Luis, our driver, were the best we could ask for."

The teachers were impressed that no one complained about anything during the trip. There were cold showers (occasionally accompanied by spiders and bugs), constantly wet footwear, a lot of beans and rice to eat, and even one home that had no toilet seat, but clearly those were the furthest things from these girls' thoughts.

Perhaps it was because they were so captivated by the nature that surrounded them. They spoke of the howl of monkeys at night, an abundance of frogs and dogs, and even a pack of five horses running on the beach. They learned how pineapples and bananas grow, drank from fresh coconuts and bought bracelets made of coconut shells as a reminder of their trip.

Junior Amanda Donahue's thoughts seem to support the conclusion that being awed by nature outweighed any physical discomforts the group endured. Saying her favorite part was nature she added, "On the trip I got stung by wasps, bitten by ants, and deprived of sleep, but seeing the nature took my breath away and made it all worth it."

Senior Alyssa Brown agreed. "My most exciting experience was getting extremely close to a large waterfall...the spray and power was so close and you could feel how strong it was."

Three of the students, seniors Katie Cole, Nina Burke, and Susan Livermore, have created their own special keepsake of the trip. The girls brought a video camera and captured many moments from the trip, and interviewed families they met and teachers from schools they visited. They turned the video into their end-of-the-year Spanish project, which consists of three parts: environmental, education systems and general life.

Everyone involved said they would recommend the trip to others and would go again if they could. Senior Casey Taylor summed up the thoughts of many saying, "I would recommend this trip for next year's class. It was an amazing learning experience in both an ecological and cultural way. The numerous environmental aspects were amazing."

In fact, senior Katie Cole is already planning a return trip for several weeks this summer. Her favorite part of the trip was her homestay where she met a girl named Anita who was her age. She said she and Anita bonded well and worked together to act as translators for the rest of the people in her house. She keeps in touch with Anita online and is hoping to stay with the family again for two weeks in July.

The teachers had their own highlights from the trip too. Martell said that one of her highlights was getting to know the students better outside of a classroom setting. Pietro said her highlight was, "hearing them speak Spanish, wanting to learn it, and speaking when asked."

Two girls explained some life-changing things that happened on the trip. Livermore spoke of the stormy night of the turtle patrol when they trekked through the sands following their guide and watching the sea churn. "I was finally relaxed enough to decide where I wanted to go to college - a decision that has been troubling me for weeks. But I've also decided that I wanted to double major and add Spanish to English and creative writing because I want to go back to Costa Rica and I want to know new people and places."

Burke summed up another kind of life lesson that many others spoke of also. "This trip also opened my eyes to the culture and lifestyles of another part of the world," Burke said. "Although it did rain a lot, I enjoyed escaping from our world of cell phones, computers and luxuries, to experience life from the other end of the spectrum. Although many people of Costa Rica have less money than many families of the U.S., they are as happy or even happier. They value the important things in life and live by their motto - PURA VIDA, which translates to 'It's all good' or 'pure life!'"

BillericaPowerPlant.Org sends petition to Beacon Hill

"It's a monumental effort," said Representative James Miceli (D-Wilmington and Tewksbury), who has worked on amendments to the bill. "There are a lot of signatures; these are people upset with what is going on."

The signature campaign expresses the signatories' "strong opposition" to the 348 Megawatt power plant proposed by DG CleanPower, LLC. If built, it would be the 13th largest power plant in Massachusetts. The plant is proposed to be built near Baker Commodities, just over the Tewksbury town line in Billerica. Most trucks transporting water or fuel to the plant will have to use Tewksbury roads to access the plant from the highway.

The petition asks the Governor to support Senate Bill 2457, specifically amendments to that bill that would prevent siting power plants within a mile of sensitive locations such as schools, day care centers, and homes; as well as block the siting of the proposed plant in North Billerica.

"The polluting emissions from the plant and the potential for drinking water contamination impacts residents' health, and the increased traffic and risk of spills and explosions impacts their safety," says the petition. "You [Governor Patrick] have established a clear strategy to make Massachusetts a national leader in utilizing state-of-the-art technology to produce green energy. This fossil fuel burning 'peaking' plant and others like it have no place in that vision for our state."

Joe Fitzpatrick of DG CleanPower, LLC, the developer of the proposed plant, discounts the petition, calling the website erroneous, in part, because it cites the American Lung Association. Fitzpatrick says that the American Lung Association is more opposed to the old coal-fired plants than it is to the newer, cleaner technology that would be utilized in the proposed power plant in Billerica.

"They (BillericaPowerPlant.org) don't want the plant and don't mind saying just about anything they want to say about that," Fitzpatrick told the Crier Tuesday.

"As people are pumping $4 per gallon of gas, it's a metaphor for the way politicians have handled energy crisis," says Fitzpatrick, who sees political interference creating a similar future for electricity, citing California's example. He says that California stopped development of new plants, which in part led to the commonly occurring "rolling blackouts."

"People wonder why we have $4 per gallon gasoline and it is because politicians didn't want to do anything - whether raise emissions standards or drill more for oil - and now we are seeing it play out here. Residents should get on the BillericaPowerPlant.org website and ask themselves, 'is there any basis for what they are saying?'"

"The fact that Fitzpatrick is a former Secretary of Energy is something that we need to overcome," Miceli told the Crier. "This is a gentleman that has connections all over that building. Based on that alone, the Siting Board should recuse itself and appoint an impartial board. They can't be objective and we have to fight it."

"The signature campaign is symbolic in that it does show the level of concern that the residents have," Paige Impink, a founding member of BillericaPowerPlant.org, told the Crier Tuesday. "We had volunteers in all four communities." Local grocery and hardware stores gave permission for volunteers to stand outside and gather signatures. Teachers, college students, parents, and many more volunteered for the effort and represented a cross section of the community says Impink.

BillericaPowerPlant.org calls itself a neighbor-based opposition effort and is not part of the well-known Billerica Watchers group, another community organization working to stop the Billerica Energy Center.

"BillericaPowerPlant.org is focused on outreach and awareness in the communities that surround the proposed site, as well as legislative aspects," said Impink. The website sends out email notices to interested parties, including prominent and influential watershed and environmental groups, and estimates that its weekly notices reach more than 1000 people.

BillericaPowerPlant.org has worked to raise awareness by hosting information sessions in Tewksbury, Chelmsford and Lowell, and participating in local media and community events like the Tewksbury Health Fair and interviews on WCAP.

"Many people tell us that if it wasn't for this kind of outreach, they wouldn't be aware of the power plant at all," said Impink.

The group sent letters to seven-state and federal legislators representing Massachusetts, referencing the petition, and either thanking them for their support or asking for it. Copies were also sent to the Billerica Board of Selectmen as well as the Billerica Board of Health.

All gave some, some gave all

more solemn level of reverence for some of America's most courageous soldiers: those who did not return from the battlefield. We call to mind the heroism of those who died while on duty, and their willingness to serve a cause greater than themselves. With a deep sense of patriotism and a firm commitment to the values that make the United States a beacon of freedom, these men and women fought on the front lines of battles that shaped the course of human history. In doing so, they distinguished themselves as authentic and enduring heroes."

A new symbolic gesture will be introduced into this year's Memorial Day Exercises. Student Jessica Bernard will make the Missing Man Presentation. The POW/MIA table will include the following symbolic items: salt which represents tears, lime - signifying the bitterness of loss, and the inverted glass which is symbolic of those who are not here to take a drink with us today.

"We must always remember," said Cimaglia. See the Wilmington Minuteman Company's supplement in this edition for a complete schedule of Memorial Day events and ceremonies.

Earning bronze medals was Courtney McMillan, Nicole Iouse and Chelsea Grivers in Tech Prep Showcase, Andrew Doucette of Billerica in Culinary Arts, Matthew Hall of Wilmington in Diesel Equipment Technology, Mike Younkers in Electronic Technology, Jason Baker of Wilmington in Residential Wiring, Samantha Boland in Prepared Speech, James Bancroft of Tewksbury in Masonry, Tim Aalerud of Tewksbury in Industrial Motor Control and James Clancy of Wilmington in Heating, Ventilation, AC and Refrigeration.

Charles Lyons, Shawsheen Tech's Superintendent-Director, said "This is equivalent to winning the Superbowl."

"In all, 20,000 students participate in SkillsUSA throughout the state each year," said Carissa Karakaedios, Shawsheen Tech's Director of Community Services. "This is just an amazing accomplishment by our students who continue to impress us. They work hard in their trades and academically give 100 percent and are able to work as a team. What more could a school ask for?"

Boston - Rep. James R. Miceli met with several school groups during their recent tour of the State House. The Wilmington Woburn Street School third graders came to Boston for various field trips during the last week of April. "It is always a pleasure to see the young people of my district enjoying one of the most historic buildings in the United States."

It was a great day overall for the Wilmington High boys track team at the MSTCA Division 3 State Relays at Milton High on Saturday, with the Wildcats finishing fourth overall as a team. But the day was absolutely outstanding for the Wildcats javelin team of Nick Farnsworth, Tom Barry and Mike Pizzotti. The senior trio not only won their event, they also set a new state record in the process, and it is a record that future teams will likely be looking at and shooting for for a long time to come.

The trio threw for an astounding total of 503-05 feet, smashing the record of 477-04 set just last season by Wilmington's Farnsworth, Barry and Shawn Fahey. As amazing as the total was, it did not come as a complete shock to the man who knows his team the best, Wildcats head coach Bob Cripps.

"Our goal going into the meet was to hit 500 feet. We really felt we could do that and I was pleased we were able to," Cripps said. "Farnsworth is the number one thrower in the state and is just getting stronger and Barry and Pizzotti have been doing very well for us."

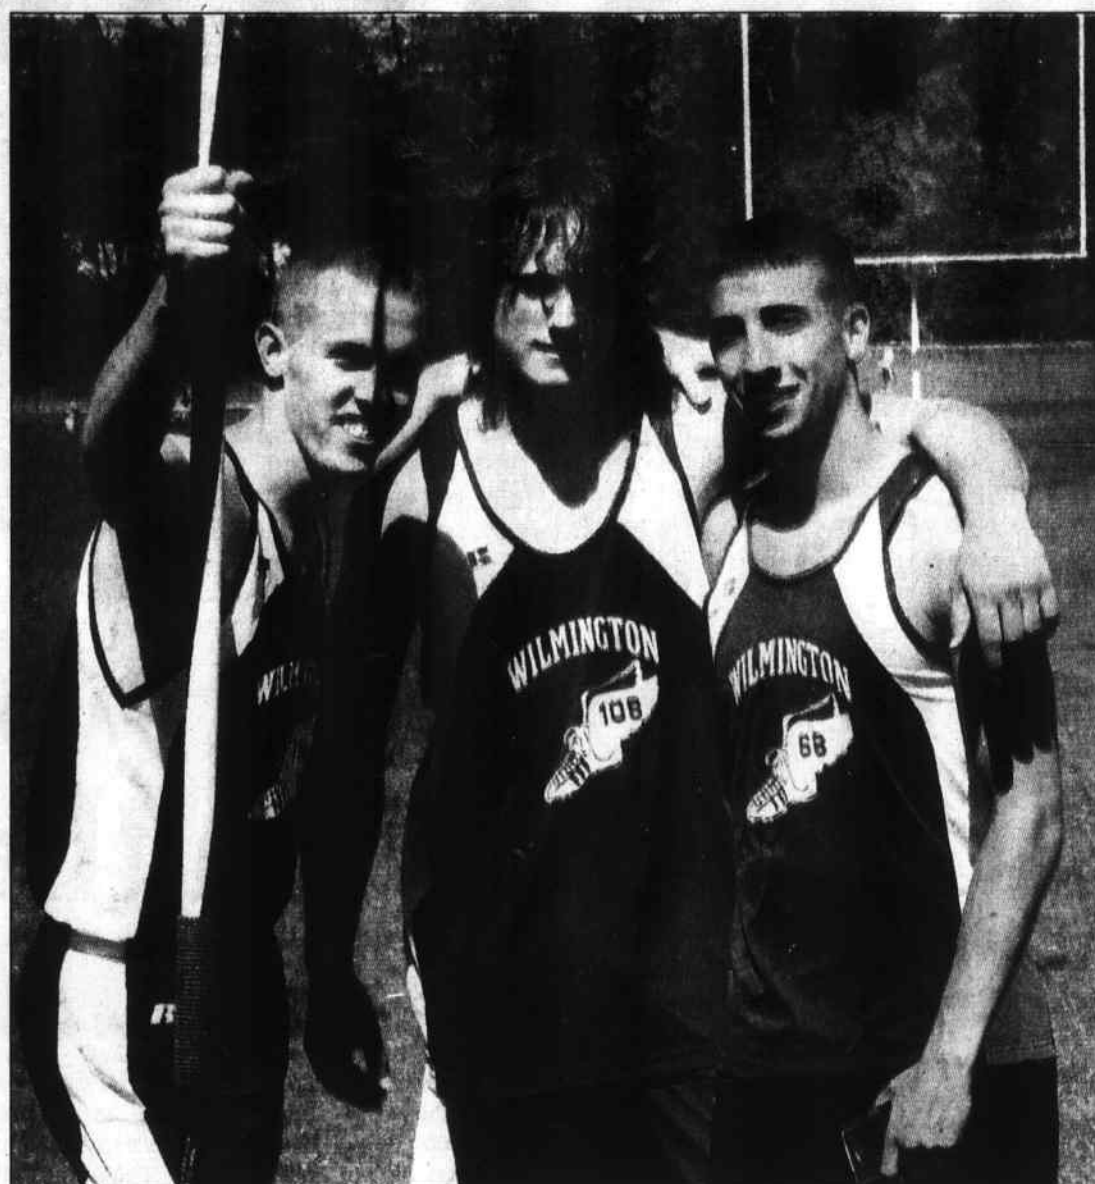

The trio actually broke the pre-existing record twice, having beaten it by about seven feet on their first set of throws, but that just served as motivation for the second set of throws.

"It was a great feeling to break the record," Farnsworth said. "We went in knowing we had good chance to break it and after we broke it on our first throws, we talked about it and said, you know we can get to 500 feet if we really go for it here."

Barry concurred, adding "It was one of the best feelings in the world to break 500 feet. Our first throws were all our best of the year so we were all jacked up for the second throws and we were so happy to be able to break 500 feet."

For Pizzotti, the one new member of the squad, just being a part of the group was great, but to be a part of such history, made it even better.

"It was unbelievable. Last year I was not able to be a part of it so I was very happy to be part of it this year," Pizzotti said. "After we broke the record on the first throw, it relieved a lot of pressure and then we were able to just go for improving that and just shatter the record."

Pizzotti pointed to the support from the rest of the Wildcats track team as a big part of the trio's great success on their second throw.

"We usually just have a couple of kids watching us, but I think the whole team was there watching us and the parents, too," Pizzotti said. "That was a big help for us."

Farnsworth's throw of 191-9 during the second set of throws broke his own individual state record of 191-4, but he was most thrilled to once again be part of the winning team in the event.

"I did not think we could have a better team or do any better than last year, but we did and it was amazing," Farnsworth said. "I was extremely excited to be a part of it."

For all three members of the javelin team, being a part of not just the Wildcats entire squad, but being a part of the trio of javelin throwers this season has been a very special experience. Barry may have captured the feelings expressed by all three of the seniors best.

"We have kind of a brotherhood. We are always pushing each other and helping each other at practice," Barry said. "And Nick is like a javelin genius. Having him with us is like having another coach."

Although Farnsworth is the clear leader of the trio, he did not want to take too much credit for the team's success, pointing out that Barry and Pizzotti have been huge assets to his success as well.

"After throwing for four years I am able to sometimes see if someone is doing something wrong, but at the same time those guys do the same thing for me," Farnsworth said. "They are just great teammates, and not just with the track team but also with their support in school and everything. They have been great."

All three of the senior will of course move on from Wilmington High at the end of the school year, but they are hoping their record will stand for a long time to come.

"We had talked about it and it is a record we hope and think will stand for a while," Barry said.

Cripps feels like the record should stand for quite some time, and pointed to the boys desire to do well for the team as a key aspect of their success.

"Their team spirit and their desire to set a record that will stand for a long time was a great motivator for them," Cripps said. "They were not throwing for themselves, they were throwing for each other and for the school."

Baseball team earns share of first CAL Title

And the streaks continue. On Tuesday afternoon, the Wilmington High School baseball team knocked off Shawsheen Tech, 7-4, in a non-league game. The victory extended the team's winning streak to five games.

Later on that night, head coach Aldo Caira found out that Masconomet defeated North Andover, which means Wilmington grabbed a share of its first ever Cape Ann League baseball championship.

After defeating both Masconomet and North Andover this past week, the Wildcats ended the league schedule with a 10-3 record, which is the same record that Masconomet and Newburyport finished with, this three teams all have a share of the title.

This is the fifth league title for boys teams this school year, following football and soccer in the fall, and basketball and hockey in the winter.

"Absolutely this is great and I'm very happy for the kids," said head coach Aldo Caira. "This senior class is something else. They have won a league title in all of the major sports. I think that says a lot for kids like Ernie Mello and Kyle Moon who have been a part of three of them, and all of the other kids who have been a part of two of them. This is the first title for Wilmington (in baseball) and the kids should be very proud of what they have accomplished."

Entering Tuesday's game, Wilmington High School senior Carlton Lentini had a batting average of .417. After Tuesday's 7-4 win over Shawsheen Tech, Lentini is over .450 after going 3-for-4 with two RBI out of the lead-off spot for the Wildcat baseball team that saw its winning streak extend to five games.

After the team's 6-0 loss to North Reading a month ago, which put the Wildcats at 4-3 on the season, head coach Aldo Caira dramatically changed up his batting order. Among the many changes was he moved Lentini, who was batting .447 out of the No. 3 hole into the lead-off spot. Before that switch, Wilmington was 4-3 on the season and were averaging 4.9 runs per game. Since the change, the 'Cats are 7-2, have grabbed a share of the Cape Ann League title and are averaging 8.8 runs per game.

The Wilmington High boys track team has been blessed with the talents of Nick Farnsworth for the past four seasons, watching him improve each year to the point where the current state record holder in the javelin is nearly assured of victory each time he takes to the field in either the javelin or discus throw.

But all good things must come to an end, and at the end of this spring track season, Wilmington High will have to say goodbye to their star, as Farnsworth will be taking his skills to Harvard University

Lacrosse team ends opening season with seven wins

By JAMIE POTE

The Wilmington High School boys lacrosse team just missed out on qualifying for the state tournament by one game, after finishing the week with a 2-1 record including two dramatic overtime victories.

Last Thursday, the Wildcats knocked off Newburyport, 10-9, in overtime. After Kevin Fitzpatrick tied the game up late in the second half, Corey Groves got the game winner just 2:15 into the extra frame to seal the deal.

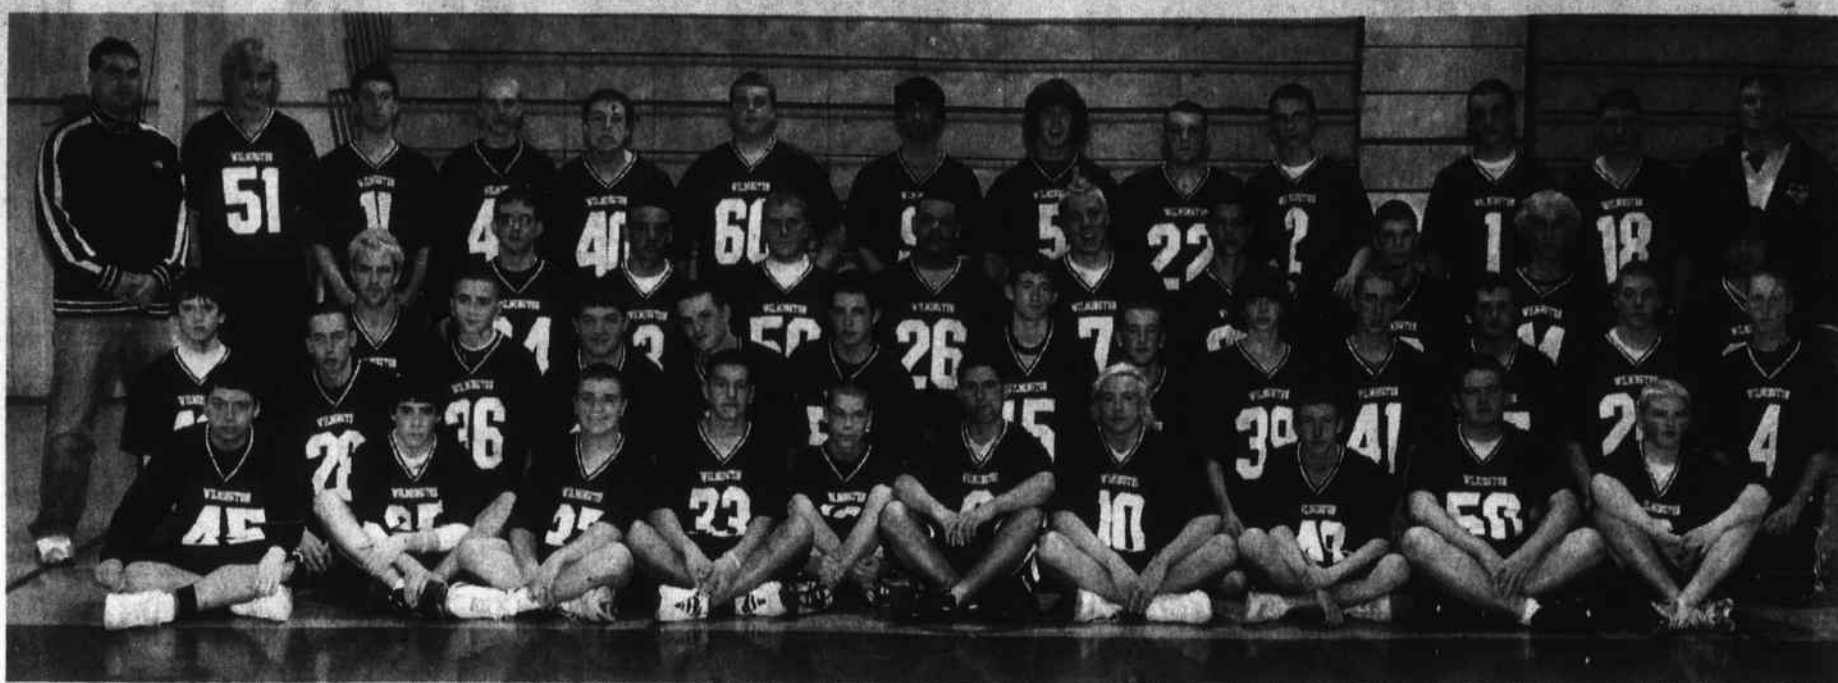

Sean Fay led the way with three goals and two assists. Fitzpatrick and Groves had two goals and an assist each, while, Sean Tavares, Jon Kincaid and Zack Rosa (first varsity goal) had one tally each.

Matt Kincaid played very well in the pipes making 12 stops.

On Friday, Wilmington was defeated on the road by Pentucket Regional, 13-8.

"Matt Kincaid had a great day in goal keeping us in the game and within striking distance," said head coach Mike Fay. "We fought hard to control the game, but Pentucket had a lot of talent and score on transition."

Fay and Derian led the way three points each with the former tallying all assists and the latter getting three goals. Fitzpatrick and Kevin Flanagan had two goals each, while, Chris Thibault added a goal and an assist.

On Monday the season ended in dramatics as Wilmington edged out Georgetown, 11-10, in double overtime. There were many highlights to this game, including huge goals from Groves and Jon Kincaid. He also watched his younger brother Matt played superb in the net making 19 total saves including eight in the first quarter and two in the overtime frames.

Groves sent the gam into overtime with his fourth goal of the game and then after a scoreless first overtime, Jon Kincaid ended the game at the 2:17 mark of the second overtime, which ended the game and the season for the Wildcats.

"We close out a very respectable 7-9 record," said Fay.

He said that double overtime win was due to the play of the defense.

"We shut down Georgetown's top scorer twice during overtime," said Fay. "Timmy Cushing, Andy Wells, Max Wilkins, Eric Parsens, Eric Murray and Chris Thibault work hard in front of Matt Kincaid all game long. Their hard work in the overtime made a huge difference in the outcome of a very close game."

Groves scored four goals, while, Sean Fay added in two goals and two assists as did Kevin Flanagan. Matt Derian chipped in a pair of goals, while, Fitzpatrick added two helpers.

The Wilmington High School Boys Lacrosse team finished its first varsity season this past week. After one season as a "club" team and two seasons as a JV team, the boys finished on a high note Monday beating Georgetown in overtime 11-10. Coached by Mike Fay, Ryan Fran and Dan Silva, the team ended its first real season with a 7-9 record coming short of the playoffs by one win. ## Class C Relay Meet

Wildcat boys run crazy on the track

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The Wilmington High track team was dominant throughout the regular season, posting a 9-1 record on the year, so it should probably come as no surprise that in their first post season meet of the year, the Wildcats showed some of that same dominance, standing out as a team and as individuals amongst their competition.

Their first foray into post season meets came last Saturday afternoon at Milton High at the MSTCA Division 3 State Relays and the Wildcats wasted little time in showing the state wide competition what the Cape Ann League has seen all year long with a fourth place overall finish as a team, as well as championships in two events, including a state record in the javelin, where the Wildcats shattered their own mark set just last season.

"It was a very good day for us," Wilmington coach Bob Cripps said. "We had some outstanding performances. Of course the javelin team setting the record was the highlight, but everyone did very well."

As Cripps pointed out the javelin team's success was of course the highlight, and for very good reason, as the team of seniors Nick Farnsworth, Tom Barry and Mike Pizzotti totaled 503.5 feet, shattering the state record Wilmington had set last season of 477-04. They also outdistanced their closest competition in the relay meet by nearly 60 feet, with Bishop Feehan finishing second with throws totaling 444-07.

The Wildcats other victory on the day was nearly as dominating, as they took the 1600 meter sprint medley in a time of 3:35.90, winning by seven seconds over their nearest competition. The event calls for four runners for each team's running various distances, with one running 400 meters, two running 200 and the anchor leg consisting of 800.

The Wildcats combination of Jimmy DiNuccio, Barry, Nick Jannone and Mike Condell clinched the win after a brilliant anchor leg by Condell, but all four ran very well. DiNuccio completed his 400 leg in 51 seconds, a personal best, while Barry and Jannone combined for 46.5 seconds for their 400 meters. Still the race was virtually tied until Condell grabbed the baton and blew the competition away in the 800.

"We won it very handily," Cripps said. "All of the kids ran a great race, but it was Condell who really put it away."

The Wildcats finished fifth in the 4 x 100 and third in the 4 x 400 as well. The 4 x 100 team of Tony Nelson, Jannone, Nathan Downs and Matt Figueirido continued what has been a very successful season with a time of 45.20, coming in behind Milton who won with a time of 43.80.

"It was not their best time, but it was better than average, and it was certainly good enough," Cripps said. "It was also tough for them to run in the morning, but they did very well."

The 4 x 400 team has won nearly every meet they have been in this season, and although they were not able to pick up a win in this meet, they were still outstanding with a time of 3:33.20 for a third place finish behind Milton and Holliston.

DiNuccio ran his second 51 second heat of the day in his leg of the relay and Condell was also very impressive in his leg with a time of 52 seconds.

"It was not quite as good as we could have been, but I think we will do better in the CAL's and in the state meet," Cripps said. "DiNuccio had a super day for us."

The 4 x 200 team finished 12th overall, an impressive finish, but it could have been even better if not for a mishap on one of the exchanges.

Cripps was very pleased with the efforts of Tony Nelson, Jason Pereira, Downs and Figueirido, and their time of 1:38.90, which was just five seconds behind champion Stoneham, but he would have liked to have seen what could have happened if not for Downs, through no fault of his own, getting tangled with another runner as he was about to receive the baton for the third leg of the meet, spraining his ankle. Downs got up and ran, and did very well, but it likely cost the Wildcats at least a couple of seconds.

The 4 x 110 hurdles team of Tyler Calway, Francis Cunningham, Mike Donnell, and Jon Parella finished 10th in a time of 1:15.00.

Along with their great success in the javelin, the Wildcats also did very well in other field events, starting with the discus where they took a second place finish behind the efforts of Farnsworth, Nate Clarkin and Alan Dooley. The trio finished with a total distance of 369-02, coming in just behind winner Hopkinton's 373-11.

The shot put team of Clarkin, JJ Lyons and Dooley finished eighth overall with a distance of 123-10.25, while the long jump team of Jared Peters, Vinny Papageorgiou, and Jannone finished sixth with a total distance of 59-00.25.

Defeat Tewksbury and North Reading to conclude regular season

Girls Tennis team continues blazing season

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The Wilmington High girls tennis team finished up their regular season with a pair of strong performances "with wins over non-league rival Tewksbury last Thursday afternoon and on Monday over Cape Ann League rival North Reading.

Both wins came by a score of 4-1 as the Wildcats wrapped up their regular season with a record of 10-6, and they will now begin preparation for their first ever appearance in the state tournament which should begin either later this week or the beginning of next week.

The Wildcats earned the North Reading win primarily through some very strong play in their singles matches where they did not lose a single set behind the efforts of Danielle Miles, Erin McMahon and Jessica Burke.

Miles easily won her first singles match by a score of 6-0, 6-1, while McMahon took second singles at 6-2, 6-1 and Burke won her third singles match by a score of 6-4, 6-2.

"Our singles went out first and took all the pressure off the team," Wilmington coach Kevin Welch said. "For Danielle and Erin it was nice to see them get of the court quickly because they have both played (and won) a lot of tough 3 set matches this year."

Welch was especially pleased to see Miles, a senior co-captain, come away with a victory in her last regular season appearance for the Wildcats.

"I am extremely happy for Danielle. She was able to finish up with a win on her home court," Welch said. "Playing #1 singles in this league is not easy. In the past I have viewed wins at the number one singles spot as a bonus but this year Danielle had five wins and lead the team to a couple important victories. She should be able to look back on this year and feel proud about the way she played."

The first doubles team of Ivy Co and Steph Woods also picked up a victory for the Wildcats, winning their match by a score of 6-4, 3-6, 7-5. It was the pair's 11th victory of the season.

"In the third set their backs were against the wall a couple of times but the kept battling and eventually won the points they needed and closed out the set," Welch said. "At one point I thought the lost the match, they were down 4-5 in the third and I lost track of the score. They lost a point I thought the match was over I wrote in my book a 6-4 loss, when I looked up they were still playing."

"They never lost another game after that. Just like our season they continued to battle and win a close match."

Against Tewksbury, the Wildcats once again got wins from McMahon and Burke in second and third singles with McMahon winning by score of 6-2, 6-4, and Burke winning by a score of 6-3, 6-0. Burke also picked up the Wildcats only victory last Wednesday afternoon in a 4-1 loss to Triton, winning by a score of 6-3, 7-5.

"The one constant last week was Jessica's play. She has been very steady. She has played in control and worn down her opponents," Welch said. "At second singles Erin bounce back from her Triton match with a very nice win in Tewksbury. Erin was making her shots and playing with confidence."

Both doubles teams came away with victories with Co and Woods winning by a score of 6-2, 6-4 and co-captain Taylor Kindred and Christine Woods winning 6-1, 6-4.

"The doubles matches were well played by both of our teams," Welch said. "Steph and Ivy controlled the play of the matches from start to finish. Taylor and Christine also played well. They were able to make some improvements to their game which is hard to do this late in the season."

While the state tournament still awaits, Welch could not be happier with how his team has performed up to this point in the season. Not a lot was expected out of the Wildcats heading into the season, but they ended up having a remarkable year.

"Coming into the year my goal was just to improve on last year," Welch said. "I never expected a 10 win season. This team was returning only two starters from last year's team. The 10 wins show how hard these girls worked to improve. They are very coachable and they want to improve. This is a special group of girls."

Wilmington High's Erin McMahon won her match last Thursday against Tewksbury, helping the Wildcats win the non-league match, 4-1. (photo by JoeBrownphotos.com).

Lentini leads off the winning ways

game today," said Caira. "He just gets up there and rips the ball. He sees a pitch and he just goes after it. He's not one to take pitches."

Last year Lentini was a singles hitter. He would make good contact but was kind of a batter that you could hit-and-run with. He never stood out but he didn't hurt you either. This year is totally different. He's not only aggressive at the plate but he has a powerful bat driving the ball to all fields, and mixing in his share of extra base hits for the 12-5 Wilmington squad.

"I think he's just more aggressive at the plate," said Caira. "Last year he was kind of a punch-and-judy hitter. This year he's a year older, he is stronger and he's more mature. He had a couple of games with us to the tail end of his sophomore year but last year was pretty much his first year with us on varsity. He was learning a new position of second base because he was always a shortstop, but I think now that he's back at shortstop he's a lot more comfortable."

The change in the order, Lentini says, has helped the entire team, not just him.

"I think that was good for me and good for the team. (Mike) Murphy moved up to fifth and Mike Cabral moved up to fourth and he's hitting amazing and (Eric) Siegel is up to third and he's been great," said Lentini. "I think the (change in the order) has done us a lot of good."

Lentini kept the three-run inning going on Tuesday with a two-out RBI single to left field which scored Kyle Lunt and made the score 3-0 in favor of the hometown team. Then in the fifth, he led off the inning with a single, before driving in Jon Spurr with a much needed insurance run with another two-out RBI single, this time going the other way to right field.

"I'm just being more aggressive and I'm not looking at too many pitches," Lentini said. "Mostly it's the first strike I see I'm swinging at it. That's what I tried to do (on Tuesday). I know (Shawsheen pitcher) Rob (McIsaac) is an amazing pitcher and I know he has a real good curveball, so I just tried to swing before I saw that curveball."

While he did the job at the plate, Lentini has been solid at shortstop, moving over from second base last year. He doesn't make the Ozzie Smith flashy kind of plays, but he gets there and he makes the plays when called upon.

"I've always been a shortstop but I had to play second base last year because obviously Josh (Mayo) at (the) shortstop (position) and he's a great player," said Lentini. "I'm happy that I'm at shortstop. I think it's the right for me, and for (coach) Aldo (Caira)."

After Tuesday's win, the Wildcats are 12-5 on the season, a complete turnaround from last year's 7-13 campaign.

"I'm not surprised at all," said Lentini. "I think that we've always had the talent. It just took a while for us to get the chemistry going. I knew that we would be one of the best teams in the league. We have the pitching, the hitting, the fielding and the experience. I knew that once we came together and started to mess, that something great would happen. And I know that we're going to do great in the (state) tournament."

Lentini knows all about being a part of productive teams. During the fall, he was a part of the league champion boys soccer team, that eventually lost in the state tournament in a shoot-out by Stoneham. The senior shortstop said he wants the winning ways to continue before he exits WHS for good next month.

"It's amazing. It's a great feeling (to be a part of two league championship teams)," he said. "It's your last year in high school so it's good to go out with a bang."

4. Earlier this season, the Knights trounced the 'Cats by a 12-1 score.

The rematch saw senior right-hander Kevin Skinner improve to 5-1 on the mound. He tossed another complete game, giving up four earned runs on six hits, while walking two and striking out six. He was helped out offensively early on as the 'Cats scored five combined runs in the first two innings. Eric Siegel led the way at the plate with a home run, a double, a single and four RBI. Carlton Lentini was the only other batter with multiple hits with two, while, Ernie Mello scored two runs.

Then on Saturday, Wilmington edged out Masconomet, 5-4. Senior Brian Svensson evened his record to 3-3 as he tossed a complete game giving up four earned runs on six hits while walking three and striking out eight. Steve Stewart, Kyle Lunt, Mike Murphy and Ryan Searles had one RBI each, as the 'Cats pulled out the victory despite having just five hits but the big one came off the bat of Searles, who smacked his first home run of the season.

On Tuesday the winning ways continued over the Rams. Wilmington jumped out to a 5-0 lead through the first three innings. Jon Spurr got things going with a RBI double scoring Murphy, who led off the second inning with a single. Kyle Lunt and Lentini followed with RBI singles and Wilmington had a 3-0 lead.

In the third, Wilmington took advantage of four base on balls, while, Murphy collected a RBI single and Searles walked in a run with the bases loaded and the 'Cats had a 5-0 lead.

Shawshen made things interesting scoring three runs in the fourth and after that starter Steve Stewart settled down. He gave up an unearned run over the final three innings and retired the last eight batters he faced.

"We have four (pitchers) with at least two wins," said Caira. "Skinner has five, Svensson has three, (Andrew) Valente has two and now Stewie has two. It's nice to have all of those arms but too bad three of them are seniors so it's going to be a struggle next year but the JV team is playing well."

Stewart gave up three earned runs on just five hits while walking two and striking out three.

When the game was over it was Lentini who went 3-for-4 with two RBI, followed by Murphy and Spurr, who had two hits each.

"The (kids have been) playing great," said Caira. "They've been aggressive, they've been swinging the bats really well, and you know they do the little things too of bunting and stealing and do what they are supposed to. We have a fast team. We had 54 stolen bases before today and we had three more (which was also a key to the win)."

Last year the Wildcats finished 7-13. This year the team is now 12-5 with three games left, while earlier the team qualified for the state tournament for the second time in the past three years, after missing out the previous four seasons.

"It's been a big change," said Caira. "It's all the attitude in these kids. Sometimes the kids drive you crazy because they are so loose, and you try to get them to focus a little bit. But I think my wife (Sharon) said it best 'she said that I have to adapt to the kids (personalities) and not try to be the disciplinarian and have everyone be robots out there'. I just got to them do their thing and they are doing it."

Wilmington will close out the regular season with three tough games. On Wednesday the Wildcats faced Tewksbury with results not known as of presstime. Then this weekend the Wildcats host the annual Scanlon Memorial Tournament. On Saturday, Wilmington faces Reading, and then will match-up against either Haverhill or Ipswich on Sunday.

Winning all three games or at least two will be so crucial for the team when next week's state tournament match-ups are announced.

"That's what we've been talking about," said Caira. "As a team we set goals at the beginning of the year. We wanted to pick up ten wins as quick as we could, and then hopefully have an opportunity at a Cape Ann League championship which we have done."

"Our second goal was to go in and win our (Memorial Day weekend) tournament - we haven't done that in six years and I think the kids are starting to focus in on that which is good. And the third goal was to do well in the state (tournament) so we're kind of building up."

"We've won five games in a row and it's going to be good competition with Tewksbury, Reading and either Haverhill or Ipswich, so it'll be a good test for us (before heading into the state tournament). We're hoping to get a home (tournament) game, and it's borderline but we need to get these games to get (a home state tournament game)."

Softball team needs one more win

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

The old saying is there's no such thing as a dumb question. But when it's a dumb and obvious question, you can get the chuckle and that's just what Wilmington High School softball coach Bob Surran did.

With a two game losing streak and scoring two combined runs in the past two games, the Wildcats need to pull out a win against either Lowell or Billerica, in two tough non-league games in order to get into the post season for the first time in two years. Surran was asked if he was concerned.

"Yeah I would say I'm concerned," he said with a big laugh. "You need to go out and execute. We have some talent - I just hope these two losses just came at the wrong time and we can come out of this. We have played much better before these two games. We have to put the ball in play and if we do that we'll be OK. The thing is there's no chance of practicing and figuring out what's wrong because we're playing on back-to-back days. You just don't know."

"Of course I'm concerned. Yesterday we were sitting at 9-8 and we needed to win one of our last three games and hoping to reach the 11 or 12 win mark. But that's why you play the games. Masconomet was no pushover. They threw the ball in there, they made the plays and we didn't hit."

The week started off strong with the Wildcats tossing Georgetown aside, 8-2. Five different players including Kim Ciampa, Katie Cole, Brittney McLaughlin, Brianne Parrow and Michelle White each had a RBI. Chelsea Babcock got the win on the mound improving to 9-5 overall, while giving up just two hits on three walks and striking out two.

The on Monday and Tuesday, the Wildcats dropped consecutive games starting with an 8-1 defeat to North Andover followed by a 3-1 loss to Masconomet.

"(Against North Andover) we just didn't hit," said Surran. "It was 4-1 going to the sixth inning and they got four runs to open it up. We had a few innings with a few runners on but we just couldn't get that big hit to tie the game up. I think their top four hitters scored seven of the right runs. They are a good hitting team."

On Tuesday, Masco picked up its second win of the season, improving to 2-15 with the 3-1 win.

"The last two games we haven't been hitting well," said Surran. "All of a sudden, we're not hitting. The bats have been going cold."

The one bright spot came from Babcock on the mound, who pitched another solid game.

"Chelsea pitched well - she gave up eight hits, walked one and two strikeouts and was around the plate the whole game," said Surran.

Katie Cole had two hits and Kim Ciampa scored the lone run in the losing effort.

That leaves the two games against two beatable Merrimack Valley Conference teams.

"I'd still like to get at least one so we can make it to the tournament," said Surran. "And if that happens I think it will be a pretty good accomplishment for this program especially because we're so young. But I'll be disappointed if we don't win one of these two games. But you have to go out and play, and see what happens."

Wilmington High School senior Nick Farnsworth, throwing the javelin during Saturday's Class C Relay Meet in which he was a part of the record setting javelin throws, will be attending Harvard University in the fall.

Farnsworth headed to Harvard

where he will compete against the best the Ivy League has to offer.

For Farnsworth, who is ranked 13th in his class at Wilmington High, going to Harvard is the culmination of a dream.

"I have always wanted to go to Harvard, but I did not think it would be possible," Farnsworth said. "I talked to the coaches there and once I applied and got in it was unbelievable. I never thought I would get in. It's like my dream school."

The coaches at Harvard are hoping that Farnsworth makes their dreams come true as well, as he will be their top javelin thrower next season. Although he will be the new kid on the block in terms of competition, Farnsworth is looking forward to competing right from the start.

"It's going to be interesting," Farnsworth said. "I will be coming from nowhere and hopefully I will surprise some people. There are some kids in college I know that I would love to throw against."

And while Farnsworth is hoping for a successful college career, both in the classroom and on the field, his goals do not end there. He's got his sights set a few thousand more miles away, in London, to be precise.

"I would like to qualify for the 2012 Olympics in my senior year," Farnsworth said. "I think Harvard is the place to do it. I will have some great coaches and I think I can do well there

Under 15 Grey Lacrosse team gets edged out

The U-15 Grey Lacrosse Team played host to North Reading in Wilmington on Woburn Street this past Sunday, May 18th. Face off started with Nick Luise fighting to gain possession for Wilmington while Zach Maher, Chris Newton, Tim Hunt and Blake Walker were on attack.

Defense for Wilmington was strong with Nolan Gaffey, Steve Spinnazola and Ian Haggerty displaying their talents by fighting to defend their goalie. Mid-fielders, Cam Collins, Jay Rossetti, Colin Maguire and Jimmy O'Neill showed their speed and agility in making the passes to their teammates with ease.

Wilmington's, Nick Luise, who fired a shot in an effort to score, received an assist when he passed it to Tim Hunt who tied the score at the end of the first quarter. Jay Rossetti earned an assist as well when he was able to break free from his opponent, passing it to Tim Hunt, who scored his second for Wilmington. & nbsp; North Reading managed to get ahead before halftime though and Wilmington was down by a score of 3-2.

Wilmington was on fire and during the third quarter was able to score on Reading when Jay Rossetti snagged the ball and passed it to Tim Hunt who took a shot to the net, tying the game, making it 3-3. North Reading started to show frustration though and their attempts to gain possession lead them to numerous penalties.

Wilmington's goalie, Cam Owens, fought hard to keep North Reading from scoring throughout the game as he showcased his awesome defensive goaltending again this week.

Andrew McDonagh, Mike Silva, Steven Taylor and Dan Hope helped the Wildcats stay in the game, making passes up and down the field in an attempt to lead their team to victory but it was North Reading who came out the winner at the end of the game and Wilmington lost a tough one by a score of 4-3.

Shawsheen Tech Sports Round-Up

Baseball team completes magical league season

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The Shawsheen Tech baseball team still has several more goals ahead of them this season, like the desire to win one (or several) state tournament games, as well as earning a spot in and hopefully winning the State Vocational Tournament, but last Thursday afternoon at Minuteman Regional, the Rams accomplished the first of their pre-season goals with a 19-4 rout of their Commonwealth Athletic Conference rivals, clinching the CAC Upper Division title for the first time since 2003.

The Rams followed up the rout of Minuteman with a 5-4 win over second place Whittier the next day. Although the league title was no longer in question when the two teams squared off, the victory did wrap up an undefeated CAC season for the Rams, as they finished with a 13-0 league record.

Shawsheen coach Kevin Bloom, while very pleased with his team's accomplishments, is not ready to rest on the team's laurels at this point.

"It is nice to win the league. It is a goal we set at the start of the season," Bloom said. "We feel good about that, but there is still work to be done and we have to continue to get better."

The Rams piled up 24 hits in the win over Minuteman with Tewksbury's Anthony Miano collecting four of them on a 4-for-4 day that included two doubles and three RBI. Wilmington's Rob McIsaac also had four hits including a double and two RBI and three runs scored, while Tewksbury sophomore Kevin White had three hits, three RBI and three runs scored.

"We hit the ball real well through lineup and we had the opportunity for everyone to play," Bloom said. "We had a lot of people contribute to the win."

Senior Ron Stocker got the win on the mound for the Rams, striking out seven batters over four innings after talking over for Miano who had pitched the first three innings and allowed just one hit while striking out four and not allowing any runs.

Against Whittier the Rams fell into an early 2-0 hole in the top of the first inning, and after Miano drove in McIsaac to get one run back in the bottom the first the Rams went ahead for good in the bottom of the fourth when White tied the game with a sacrifice fly and moments later Derek Boutwell put them ahead for good with a two out, three run homer to make the score 5-2.

Whittier fought back to pull within one run, but Jon McDonald came on in relief in the top of the seventh and retired the last two Whittier batters on fly outs to preserve the victory and the undefeated league record.

On Tuesday, the Rams fell to 14-4 overall with a 7-4 non-league loss to Wilmington. The Wildcats jumped out to a 5-0 lead before Shawsheen made it interesting scoring three runs in the top of the fourth behind a RBI groundout by Shaun Miller, a RBI single by Mike DeRosa and a sacrifice fly by Derreck Soraga. Wilmington added single runs in the bottom of the fourth and fifth, with help with a handful of walks.

The Rams did score a fourth run on a RBI double by Steve McIsaac which drove in Miano, who reached on an infield error.

Softball

The Shawsheen softball team also wrapped up the CAC Large championship last week, improving their record to 16-2 overall and 12-1 with the CAC Large. The Lady Rams picked up two more league wins with a 10-2 victory over PMA on Thursday and a 15-1 rout of Whittier on Friday. The Whittier win avenged the only league loss of the season for Shawsheen and secured the league title.

PMA usually provides Shawsheen with some of their best competition of the season, but with a young team, they are struggling a little this season and the Lady Rams were able to coast to an easy victory.

"They are always a very strong team, but they graduated 10 seniors off of last year's so they are bringing up a lot of kids with no varsity experience," Buckley said. "They are going through some growing pains right now as you would expect they would, but they will be back."

Senior captain Katie Hogan of Tewksbury has picked up her already outstanding play down the stretch and continued her fine play with a pair of doubles and four RBI on the day.

"Katie has stepped into her role as a senior and she has come up with some big hits and RBI for us," Buckley said. "She comes up behind a lot of our top on base people and she will come up with the hit that we need."

Kelli Jo Deardorff picked up the win with four no-hit innings, while striking out 10 batters, and Tori Philbrook came up from the junior varsity and did a tremendous job in relief, pitching three strong innings.

The Lady Rams had numerous offensive stars against Whittier, led by Deardorff who had a home run, two doubles and seven RBI as part of her 3-for-3 day. Amanda Russo and Brittany Walsh each went 2-for-2, while freshman Allison Trayah of Tewksbury went 1-for-2 with two runs scored and a pair of walks.

"That was an important win for us to beat a team that had beaten us earlier this season," Buckley said. "We made some mistakes in our first game against them and we were able to correct them this time."

The Lady Rams most recent win came on Monday afternoon with a 2-1 win over non-league rival Bishop Fenwick. Deardorff was once again outstanding, throwing a complete game while scattering eight hits and one earned run and striking out nine batters.

"It was a tight game and both teams had lots of opportunities," Buckley said. "We were fortunate to come out on top."

Shawsheen scored both of their runs in the second inning, with Hogan and Tewksbury's Gina Coyle getting things started with singles. After Trayah reached on an error, Hogan scored on a single by Brittany Walsh, and moments later Coyle scored on a sacrifice by Colleen Carroll.

It was Shawsheen's second win of the season against Fenwick.

"That was a big step for us," Buckley said. "Fenwick is a bit of a young team, but they play a tough schedule. They have had some big wins, so for us to come out on top twice against them this season is something to be proud of."

Boys Lacrosse

The league championships seem to keep piling up for Shawsheen Tech, as the boys lacrosse team recently wrapped up at least a tie for their third straight Mass Technical Lacrosse League (MTLL) title, and are closing in on second consecutive undefeated regular season.

The Rams picked up two wins this past week over MTLL opponents, routing Minuteman 16-2 on the road last Thursday afternoon and following that up with a 14-0 win over Lynn Tech at home on Monday.

Against Lynn Tech, the Rams got six goals and an assist from Cory Foss while fellow attack Shawn Donovan of Tewksbury added one goal and added a season high seven assists. The third member of the Rams powerful offensive triumvirate, Mike Arricale had a goal and five assists.

The Rams also got a pair of goals from freshman Ryan Woolaver of Tewksbury, as well as goals by Jason Baker and Andrew Companschi of Wilmington and freshman Bobby Greenwood of Tewksbury.

"We were able to get a lot of kids into the game and we were able to do it pretty early," Baker said. "In a way it's kind of tough because you want to keep your starters in to get their timing down for the tournament, but you don't want to embarrass your opponent."

The Rams were in a similar situation in their win over Minuteman, when ten members of the team scored points in the 16-2 victory.

Arricale led the way with four goals and four assists, while Foss added two goals and four assists, and Wilmington's Kyle Gaffey added a pair of goals as did freshman Mike Barry. Woolaver had a goal and an assist as did sophomore Jesse Rossetti of Wilmington.

Despite his desire to see his top players be at peak condition for the tournament, Baker has been happy to get so many players into these games.

"It's great for some of these kids, because they work hard in practice for us," Baker said. "We have our kids at the top who do a lot of our scoring, but also about 90% of our kids have points, so all of them have done something for the program."

The league title and the hope for an undefeated season are indeed great accomplishments for the Rams, but for Baker and his team to be truly happy, they will have to earn a win in the state tournament this year, which they have been unable to do the past few seasons.

"At this point, I feel like this is the most confident team we have had in a while," Baker said. "In the past we have gone to these state games lacking confidence, but this team is starting to gel to the point where the confidence level is really there."

Iron Chef Contest pits the best in school cooking

Iron Chef

By DOUG WOOD-BOYLE

It started out as a team spirit building exercise among the high school, middle school and elementary schools' cooking staffs in Wakefield and now the Iron Chef contest has grown to pit that districts food service people against those in Saugus and Lexington (all three communities are served by Chartwells Food Service) and against the Wakefield Memorial High School Culinary Arts students. For the first time in three years, the trophy left Wakefield and was taken to Lexington High School.

Wakefield School District Food Service Supervisor Jean Sheridan, an employee of Chartwells Food Service, said, "The deal with it is the camaraderie of getting the teams together."

The idea was part of a series of exercises in team spirit led by Wakefield School District Assistant Superintendent for Personnel and Business Peter DeRoeve. As a result of a Team Spirit seminar he ran, food service employee Lisa Brown suggested the idea of a contest among the staff of the district's three kitchens.

DeRoeve took the idea and ran with it and along the way added the Culinary Arts students who run the High School's Farm Street Inn program into the mix. In the first year the High School Cafeteria team won the contest.

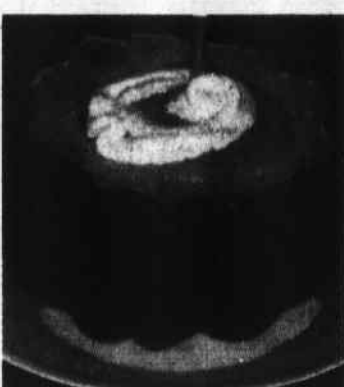

However, last year, Saugus and Lexington were invited to enter teams. With all of the adult competitors the surprise winner was Tony Cucchi's Culinary Art students.

This year, the combined staff from the Lexington School District went all out to take "Best of Show" by winning the Appetizer class and the overall points.

Saugus came in third place winning the Entrée and the Dessert classes and the Wakefield Elementary School cooks came in second place in overall points. The judging is done on a blind tasting basis with appearance taste and originality of the recipe being the main criteria for the judges.

This year the judging was done by Wakefield School Committee member Chris Calanan; Gail Oliveira, Chartwell's Registered Dietician; Bridget Ziniti, Massachusetts Department of Education; Mary Ellen Dunn, assistant superintendent Lexington Public Schools;

Richard Weeks, Finance Manager Saugus Public Schools; and Jack Jones, District Manager of Chartwells. The judges change every year and are invited to judge the contest.

Nancy Wiseman, the director of dining services in Lexington was a member of that Town's four person team, which included Executive Chef Tara Brazalovich and cafeteria workers Cathy Ost and Sue Brown. This was the second year for Wiseman, Ost and Brown.

(Ost and Brown) knew what the expectations were," Wiseman said.

She added, that Brazalovich, who is new to the Lexington kitchens is "really fabulous."

The winning menu was a chilled cucumber soup served with mini crab cakes as an appetizer; Coq Au Vin, (described as a wine and herb braised, bacon wrapped chicken thigh served with mushrooms, carrots and tri-

Movie Reviews by Paul Feely

"The Chronicles of Narnia, Prince Caspian"

"THE CHRONICLES OF NARNIA", Prince Caspian is darker and more somber than the first Narnia movie. But, if you liked the first one, you will probably enjoy this movie also.

"THE CHRONICLES OF NARNIA: PRINCE CASPIAN"

GRADE: ***

"You may find Narnia a more savage place than you remember," the dwarf Trumpkin (played by Peter Dinklage) warns the Pevensie children when they return to the mythical land they first found through a wardrobe door.

He's right. The mood of "Prince Caspian," taken from the second book of C.S. Lewis' The Chronicles of Narnia, is darker and more somber than in "The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe." But the magic of this fantasy world still captivates viewers of all ages.

For the Pevensies - brothers Peter (William Moseley) and Edmund (Skandar Keynes) and sisters Susan (Anna Popplewell) and Lucy (Georgie Henley), all back from the first film - a year has passed, and their memories of Narnia are fading. They find a new portal back to Narnia (via a tube station) and discover that 1,300 years have passed, during which time the Pevensies have become distant legends and Narnia's magical folk have mostly gone into hiding from the warlike Telmarines in the next kingdom.

In Telmar, though, plots are afoot. Telmar's Lord Protector, the nasty Miraz, has a new baby son - an heir he hopes will take the throne instead of his nephew, Prince Caspian (Ben Barnes). Caspian dodges Miraz's assassination order and escapes to Narnia. There he and the Pevensies rally the Narnians to raise an army to defend against the Telmarines.

"Prince Caspian" suffers some of the same problems as "The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe": a very-long running time of nearly 2 1/2 hours and battlefield scenes that stretch the bounds of the PG rating. But if you and your children enjoyed your first visit to Narnia, you'll be satisfied by the second trip.

"SPEED RACER"

GRADE: **

There is no reason for "Speed Racer," which is aimed at young children, to be more than one hour long. Except, of course, that you wouldn't head to a movie theater to see it if it was only 60 minutes long.

Here's the storyline: A guy named Speed (Emile Hirsch), whose brother died in a fiery crash, follows in his skid marks, racing to make sure his family's legacy isn't tarnished by a multinational corporation that controls racing in the same way conglomerates control the news business these days.

Although it occasionally drags, "Speed Racer" is fun to look at, if you use the eyes of a child. The movie looks like a bright bowl of candy and combines animation and live action so completely you can barely tell the difference (even the flesh of real actors have been digitally altered so it looks like plastic).

Combining cityscapes that look like they belong in anime films with action that follows the nonrule rules of Looney Tunes, "Speed Racer" doesn't look like any movie you've ever seen. Even something as simple as a conversation between a pair of businessmen is put together so the two appear to be on conveyor belts, moving in opposite directions.

Matthew Fox is good as the mysteriously robotic Racer X - a rival who teams with Speed in an uneasy alliance.

The races would be more exciting if there were more emotions at stake. The television show this film is based on had one drawback - each episode basically had the same storyline, a problem that has been transposed onto the big screen.

"IRON MAN"

GRADE: ***

Rest easy, megamovie fans - the first blockbuster of the summer is a lot of fun. The loud and explosive Iron Man may not walk away with many Oscars (though one could certainly make a case for Robert Downey Jr. for Best Actor, even at this early date), but it certainly will draw audiences, and will probably satisfy the demanding tastes of Marvel comic book fans everywhere.

What originally looked like off-the-wall casting now looks like a shot of genius. Robert Downey Jr. plays Tony Stark, the boozing, womanizing head of Stark Industries, a company he inherited from his father and the world's leading weapons manufacturer. He cares little for the death and destruction in which his company plays a major role. "They say the best weapon is one you never have to fire," he says before demonstrating a new missile. "I prefer the weapon you only need to fire once."

Downey is a rare serious actor who can speak a piece of routine dialogue and, with his inspired delivery, turn it into biting humor, and is perfect for this role.

This is an effects-heavy popcorn flick, but director Jon Favreau, working from a screenplay credited to four writers, never forgets the man in Iron Man. T

Iron Man delivers what its fans will most demand, such as plenty of explosions, a parade of high-tech gadgetry, computer-generated sequences highlighting the action and numerous beautiful women. Compared to other recent superhero movies, Iron Man should rank a notch below Batman Begins, but on par with the the second installments in X-Men.

St. John's Prep holds 98th commencement

St. John's Preparatory School held its 98th commencement exercises on Sunday, May 18 at 11:00 a.m. Headmaster Albert J. Shannon, Ph.D. awarded diplomas to 304 seniors at an outdoor ceremony held on the school's campus.

In his remarks, Dr. Shannon reminded the graduates that for one hundred years, St. John's has embraced the Xaverian values of humility, trust, compassion, simplicity and zeal. "These eternal values will carry you into the future. They will nurture your passion for wisdom and deepen your commitment to others. The lessons you have learned at St. John's are just the beginning, but these values are a Centennial gift for a lifetime," said Dr. Shannon.

Faculty, friends and families of the graduates gathered to attend the ceremony which included a commencement address by Mr. William Britton of Atkinson, NH, a member of the Social Studies faculty at St. John's and an expert on the war in Vietnam and the Cold War.

"The Planning Board, here, deliberated over a proposed Redstone facelift that would bring in an L.A. Fitness Center to anchor the largely vacant retail space near the old Ames building," notes the "Stoneham Independent."

"With Ames leaving at the left side of the shopping center, my clients had difficulty leasing that space to another tenant," said Main Street attorney Steven Cicatelli. "We definitely need another anchor tenant at the southern portion of the shopping center."

"We're very anxious to move forward. We feel that this is a very important tenant," the Main Street lawyer added.

"As originally reported by the Stoneham Independent last March, the Redstone renovation plan calls for redeveloping the Ames building in order to accommodate a 55,000 square foot L.A. Fitness Center.

"Previously, Cicatelli had indicated that the old Ames building would be razed and a new structure built to house the high-end exercise facility, but the tenants now plan on renovating the existing space.

"The current CVS pharmacy, located nearby the plaza's Radio Shack, would also shift over to a new storefront, to be erected in the spot where the old Ground Round restaurant and Eastern Bank branch stood.

"The commercial property owners also hope to attract two new tenants to the old Cherry Webb spot, likely another retail establishment and a restaurant, based upon plans first unveiled last spring.

"Marshalls plans to expand toward the rear of the property, in the parking lot area behind the plaza near Shaw's supermarket.

"Committee member Mildred Nash, also a Town Meeting representative, noted the first bike path was approved by Town Meeting in 1987.

"There are three phases in the process for locating paths throughout town.

"To date, the main focus has been on the southern part of town and connecting with trails in Lexington.

"There are agreements with Sun Microsystems and the Nordblom Co. for Phase 2 in the Middlesex Turnpike area, heading toward Bedford. This is in the design phase.

"Still in the planning stages is Phase III in the area of town headed toward Wilmington.

"Town Administrator Robert Mercier, noting Chapter 90 state highway funds can be used for bike paths, said there is a commitment to getting funding to complete design work for Phase I.

"We are serious about this," he stated....

All Beauty, no beast

To look at her, she's a "Beauty." But it's not all about looks, they say, so it's a good thing she's sweet, too. And, once you know her story, you'll be amazed by that fact.

Beauty was rescued from a house where there were too many cats and she lived mostly outdoors, even while pregnant. There wasn't enough food for all the cats and she and her kittens, born in the garage, were badly malnourished. Two of the kittens died.

Luckily, Beauty was rescued by the Woburn Feral Cat Coalition. She was suffering from a debilitating upper respiratory disease, which made her milk toxic to her remaining kittens. She was brought to Park Street Veterinary Clinic in North Reading and started on supportive care, including antibiotics and a healthy diet. Well, you can consider Beauty "The Biggest Winner" because she is now happily chubby. But, hey, black is slimming, right?

Beauty and her kittens are only a few of many cats rescued by the Woburn Feral Cat coalition who are looking for homes. WFCC is a non-profit, no-kill organization of dedicated volunteers, who are committed to controlling the stray and feral cat population. They do this by humanely trapping strays and then fostering and socializing those they determine to be adoptable. All the cats are spayed or neutered and vaccinated as well as provided any medical attention necessary. Those who are too aggressive to be adopted are then released into a controlled environment where they are regularly fed and monitored for health problems. WFCC's mission is to spay and neuter as many strays as possible and find families for all those suitable.

Cat Adoption Day
May 25th at
Park Street Vet

But this story doesn't have a happy ending yet. Beauty has been with WFCC for over a year, overlooked by potential families in favor of kittens. If only people knew how lucky they would be to have her as a family member. If you have love to give, a nice sunny window and a comfortable chair to share, maybe you're the one to notice this sweet and deserving kitty.

You can meet Beauty, as well as other cats and kittens rescued by the Woburn Feral Cat Coalition this Sunday, May 25th, at Park Street Veterinary Clinic where Dr. Tali Kastner will be hosting an adoption day from 11am to 2pm.

The clinic is located at 238 Park Street (Route 62) in North Reading. You can find out about other cats available for adoption by going to <http://www.petfinder.com/shelters/MA343.html> or by finding their link through www.ParkStreetVet.com.

Even if you can't adopt a new furry friend, there are others ways to help the WFCC. You can volunteer your time, foster cats in transition or give a tax-deductible donation. For more information on supporting WFCC, you can email woburncats@gmail.com.

Athletes & Activities

SPORTS SHORTS

MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA QUESTION: Since the NBA reconfigured its playoff format in 1975 to four rounds of competition, no team has gone the maximum number of games in each round and won an NBA title, but one team battled through three Game 7s in the final three rounds and won a title. Which team was it?

Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

National Student-Athlete Day was held Friday, April 11 at UMass-Lowell, and senior BRYAN KOENIG (READING) earned the top student athlete honor for the men's track and field team for the second time in three years. Koenig, who was also cited in 2006, majors in both criminal justice and political science and has maintained a 3.88 grade point average. He runs sprints and relays for the UML track and field team, and is a 2004 RMHS graduate.

Despite grey skies and rain, KATHLEEN LEGERE AND JAMES MAUGHAN OF READING were among the 1,400+ competitors at the 26th Run of the Charles Canoe & Kayak Race, the signature event of the Charles River Watershed Association (CRWA). Legere and Maughan competed in the Corporate category of the 24 mile relay race.

The Run of the Charles showcased the ongoing improvements to the Charles River. More than a hundred volunteers with thousands of spectators were gathered along the race route on Sunday, April 27 for CRWA's annual celebration on the river, making the 26th Run of the Charles Canoe & Kayak Race one of the best events ever.

"I have never seen so many people in Herter Park," said CRWA Executive Director Bob Zimmerman. "You can't love what you don't know, so increasing awareness about the Charles River is the key to maintaining its existence."

With involvement at an all-time high this year, I feel we did a wonderful job of showing people why it is so important to protect the river that means so much to all of us."

The Run of the Charles builds support for the Charles River Watershed Association which seeks to protect and enhance the health, beauty and enjoyment of the Charles River and its tributaries. CRWA's prominent role in protecting and restoring the Charles River since 1965 accounts for a much healthier Charles River today.

Four Reading residents are training hard to get ready for the 2008 Cape Cod Getaway Bike Ride for the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, Central New England Chapter. The Reading residents will be joining more than 2,000 other riders when they head from Quincy to Provincetown on June 28 and 29, 2008. The Cape Cod Getaway - known as the Great Mass Getaway for the previous 24 years - is one of the premier fundraising bike rides in New England. The cyclists will raise more than $1.5 million to help fund multiple sclerosis research and patient care.

The Reading residents participating in the race are:

bisque in its own shell and followed by an award winning entrée of chicken spanakopita en croute with lemon mint sauce. The dessert was a mixed berry honey marscapone with orange shortcake.

Although they placed fourth overall, the Culinary Arts students could hold their heads up high with their fourth place menu. The appetizer was a roasted corn chowder with a potage garnish (dollop of whipped potato) skewered by lime cured shrimp and parmesan cheese cups filled with home-made oyster crackers on the side.

The entrée was chicken saltimbocca (made with prosciutto and provolone cheese in a Marsala wine sauce) served with confetti rice pilaf and leek laced fresh vegetable bundles. The dessert was a carrot pineapple cake with butter-cream frosting.

"I thought we would do better," Cucchi said. "The kids did awesome."

He added, "I do a lot of practice with them."

He had a six person team, which he split into three pairs. The appetizer was prepared by two of them and two student teams each prepared the dessert and entrée.

"We worked as a team on developing the menu," Cucchi said.

He added, "The kids love the competition with the adults."

All of the competitors like the idea of being able to get together in a friendly competitive setting. The team leaders all expressed the opinion that it gives them a chance to share ideas and to meet their colleagues in the field.

colored potatoes) for the entrée; and an Apple Trilogy dessert (fresh baked apple tart, green apple sorbet, and warm apple butter).

All of the teams had to prepare the three portions within the theme picked from a hat. This year the theme was soup or salad appetizer, a chicken entrée and a fresh fruit dessert.

All of the teams do some prep work in their own kitchens. On the day of the contest they arrive at Wakefield Memorial High School two hours before the time of the tasting and are sent to a bay in the home economics department to prepare and cook their entries. At the end of the prep time all of the food is brought to the Farm Street Inn next to the Home Economics' Department and the judging commences.

"We brainstormed first and everybody prepared something," Wiseman said of the preparation for the menu. "Then one week we focused on the appetizer, another week on the entrée, and the third week on the dessert. Then we had three weeks to prepare for the contest."

That preparation also included designing a fancy costume for the Team Lexington members. They all wore pink ribbed chef's coats with a traditional chef's hat trimmed in pink ribbons and a pink flower.

"If you look at really good restaurant chefs," Wiseman said, "they all look good. If you look good, you cook good, and it all works out well."

DeRoeve said of all of the contestants, "It is something to see the quality of the food they put on."

He added, "You would think you are in a five-star restaurant with some of the food that comes out."

The second place menu was an entrée of "Hakuna Matata" a coconut curried chicken soup; followed by Chicken Ravioli with Vodka Sauce; and a dessert of warm chocolate cake with spiced poached pears and cream caramel.

Dolbeare School Lead Cook Cathy Weeks said she and the members of the other elementary school kitchen staff would meet every Thursday for the weeks before the contest to try out and discuss different menu options for the contest.

Saugus took third place with an award winning appetizer of butternut squash

Hallmark Health 'Faces of Prevention' recognized by Mass. Childrens Trust Fund

Hallmark Health system's Healthy Families program was recently recognized as "Faces of Prevention" by the Massachusetts Children's Trust Fund.

The award certificate recognizes Hallmark Health, the Creative Coping: New Moms Group and the Healthy Families programs in particular, for leadership in preventing child abuse and dedication to Massachusetts families. This recognition was given out in honor of April as Child Abuse Prevention Month and in recognition of the important work Hallmark Health and the program does on a daily basis to support parents, strengthen families, protect children and prevent child abuse and neglect throughout the state.

Hallmark Health's Creative Coping: New Moms Group offer free, weekly, two hour sessions co-facilitated by a program coordinator and a licensed clinical social worker from the maternity unit at Melrose-Wakefield Hospital. Based on feedback from past participants, the model of providing peer support and professional guidance served as an important intervention for inexperienced and isolated new mothers and increased their coping skills. Program topics include the many challenges of motherhood, managing family relationships, understanding your developing child, your pediatrician: your friends, dealing with picky eaters, how to keep your child safe, taking care of you and developing a balanced life.

Hallmark Health's Creative Coping: New Moms Group targets first time mothers, ages 22-40, with children under the age of one, who live in the Malden, Medford, Everett, Melrose, Wakefield and Reading. ## Healthier living Soothing stress and sleepless nights

Learning more about the differences between everyday stress and an anxiety disorder could help keep you from tossing and turning.

While stress and anxiety are a normal part of life, anxiety disorders, which affect 40 million adults, are the most common psychiatric illnesses in the U.S. and they are on the increase.

They are identified as generalized anxiety disorder, obsessive-compulsive disorder, panic disorder, posttraumatic stress disorder, social anxiety disorder and specific phobias.

According to the 2007 Stress & Anxiety Disorders Survey, commissioned by the Anxiety Disorders Association of America (ADAA), seven out of 10 Americans say they experience stress or anxiety daily and most say it interferes at least moderately with their lives.

About one-third report daily persistent stress or excessive anxiety or that they have had an anxiety or panic attack. Seven out of 10 of those adults say they have trouble sleeping.

But sleeping is also a coping mechanism. Thirty-two percent of women and 25 percent of men say they sleep more during stressful times, and nearly half sleep more to manage their daily symptoms.

ADAA hopes to raise awareness of the signs and symptoms of anxiety disorders as well as the treatment options.

"Undiagnosed and untreated anxiety disorders can adversely affect people's lives in many areas, including their sleep," said Jerilyn Ross, MA, LICSW, president and CEO of ADAA. "The good news is that they are highly treatable."

Although relatively few adults have actually been diagnosed with an anxiety disorder, the survey shows a significant increase in such a diagnosis in 2007 (14 percent) compared to results of a similar survey in 2005, (7 percent). Among other 2007 survey findings:

- More adults are under treatment for anxiety disorders (8 percent in 2007 vs. 5 percent in 2005).
- More adults believe that their anxiety is irrational, persistent or excessive (30 percent in 2007 vs. 22 percent in 2005).
- Three-fourths of adults whose sleep is affected by stress or anxiety say that their sleep problems have increased their stress and anxiety.

Visit www.adaa.org for more information about anxiety disorders and sleep.

A beautiful smile is a healthy smile

There are many things to smile about come the warm-weather months. And those extra rays of sunshine are one of them. Did you know that the ultraviolet rays from the sun trigger the production of vitamin D in the skin? Vitamin D has limited availability, and can be obtained only through select foods, from sunshine, and through supplementation. By now you probably know that vitamin D helps build strong bones and prevent bone-related injuries later in life. But the vitamin is also essential for healthy teeth. Vitamin D promotes calcium absorption and absorption of calcium is necessary to develop and maintain healthy teeth and bones. Brushing, flossing and regular visits with a dentist are other ways to keep your smile bright and healthy.

WEEKEND INFORMATION DESK VOLUNTEERS

Would you like to meet and greet visitors to the Parker River National Wildlife refuge? They are looking for information desk volunteers to help staff the information desk at its new Visitor Center, 6 Plum Island Turnpike, Newburyport.

The Visitor Center is open 7 days a week from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Weekends have a higher visitation potential so there is a vital need for weekend volunteers to staff the desk. Set, regular weekend hours are possible and desirable.

Meet Angelique

Angelique, 11, is an active, interesting, and inquisitive Caucasian girl. She enjoys a wealth of activities, from horseback riding, swimming and soccer to watching tv, reading and listening to music. Now in the fourth grade, Angelique continues to grow in the predictable and consistent environment that her school provides. She is building her self-confidence and working on her behavioral and emotional needs, as well her peer relations through special education services. Angelique's greatest wish is to find a family she can call her own. She would blossom in a home comprised of a single mother, or two parents with no other children or one child who is significantly older, so she can receive the attention she craves and needs. Angelique is legally free for adoption.

Who are the Children Waiting for Adoption?

There are approximately 2,400 children in Massachusetts foster care with the goal of adoption. Through no fault of their own, they cannot be raised by their birth parents. Many will be adopted by a relative or foster parent, but more than 600 have no one to adopt them yet. These waiting children are usually older, ages 6 - 16, or sibling groups who belong together, children of color of all ages, and children with intellectual, physical or emotional difficulties or disabilities. These children have experienced many losses and changes in their lives, and need patient and dependable adoptive parents who can help them grow and thrive in their new family. Free post-adoption support services are available to help.

To learn more about Angelique, and about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-54-ADOPT (617-542-3678) or visit www.mareinc.org. The sooner you call, the sooner a waiting child will have "a permanent place to call HOME."

With great route support, a party Saturday night and a fun boat ride home, the Cape Cod Getaway MS Bike Ride has become widely known in the cycling community as "the friendly ride" and one of the best rides in New England. More than 2,000 cyclists, including family and corporate teams, are riding routes of either 150 or 175 miles from Marina Bay on Boston Harbor to Provincetown on Cape Cod to create a world free of multiple sclerosis. Celebrating its 24th year, the Cape Cod Getaway is organized by the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, Central New England Chapter.

Each rider agrees to a minimum of $500 in fundraising due before or on the day of the ride, plus a $55 registration fee. The Saturday route follows the scenic South Shore coastline, and overnights at the Massachusetts Maritime Academy in Bourne, where riders enjoy live music, great food, and fun festivities. Sunday's ride explores the unique beauty of Cape Cod en route to Provincetown, where riders board the Provincetown II and dance their way back across Cape Cod Bay. Register at www.MSnewengland.org <<http://www.MSnewengland.org>> to take advantage of online fundraising tools and create a personal web page.

Early and ongoing treatment with an FDA-approved therapy can make a difference for people with multiple sclerosis. Main Street in Greenwood, following the recent repair of the system," notes the Wakefield edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"It was late January when the WPD stopped ticketing, as frustration plagued commuters who park along Main Street in Greenwood, as the recently implemented pay-to-park system began malfunctioning.

"We believe that the glitch in the software has been corrected and new directions have also been put into place to ensure that everyone is clear on how the system operates," explained Department of Public Works Director Rick Stinson.

"While the DPW staff installed the system, local authorities had to call in staff from the manufacturer to repair the software programming glitch that had motorists frustrated and angry, as many were receiving tickets even after paying for parking.

"The system is supposed to work like this: Commuters who ride the bus or the commuter rail from the Greenwood Station park in numbered spaces on the section of Main Street from Forest Street to the Meriam Street bridge.

"On Mondays through Fridays, between the hours of 5:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m., commuters are required to pay a $3.00 fee to park, using either coins or a credit card.

"After a motorist parks and notes their space number, they make their way to one of the two automated payment stations, located at the intersection of Main and Forest streets, by the MBTA Flag Man's hut. The motorist pays the $3.00 fee for a particular parking space.

"The payment machine is supposed to make note of the payment for a particular space number, as motorists are not required to display a receipt or other proof of payment in their car window.

"Periodically, throughout the day, police will visit payment kiosks and a list of parking space numbers is printed, indicating which spaces have been paid for. The police officer can then look at what spaces are filled and if there is a car in a space that has not been paid for, then that vehicle will be ticketed.

"Unfortunately, it appears that there is a malfunction that was occurring with the payment kiosks, as numerous motorists had been issued parking violations, despite having paid their $3.00 daily parking fee...."

Renting vs. owning Building equity in your dreams

For many Americans, owning a home is the cornerstone of their financial wealth. In fact, building equity in a home, combined with tax advantages offered by both federal and state governments, has driven homeownership to record levels in recent years. However, millions of renters continue to have misconceptions about the home-buying process, often delaying a home purchase by saying "it's too complicated." Buying a home is not as complicated as it may seem. With a thorough understanding of the process, owning a home can be a very real possibility for many renters.

One of the key steps in determining whether you should be a homeowner versus a renter is understanding what happens to the money you pay each month for rent or mortgage.

For example, let's consider a renter with a monthly payment of $600. Over five years, that person will have spent $36,000 on rent. In 10 years, that number rises to $72,000. That would be $72,000 without building any equity, or ownership, in return.

If the same monthly payment were applied to a mortgage, a portion of each month's payment would go toward paying down the principal (the price at which you purchased the home less a down payment), which would allow you to build ownership in the property. In addition, the interest that you pay each month, as well as any property taxes, may be deductible on your federal income taxes—a tax advantage not available to many renters (consult a tax advisor or the Internal Revenue Service regarding the deductibility of interest).

"What renters often don't realize is that in the long term, they can't afford to not buy a home, particularly as rental rates increase in many parts of the country," says Jim Ferriter, executive vice president for GMAC Mortgage.

Market conditions are very favorable for first-time homebuyers. If you have been thinking about making the move to owning a home versus renting, now is the time to start seriously looking at homes.

On the flip side, probably the greatest advantage of renting is the flexibility it offers in terms of moving. Also, the ease of knowing you are not responsible for many repairs that might arise or for the upkeep of a yard is appealing to many people of all ages. Renting is a good step towards homeownership because it helps a person understand the discipline of meeting a monthly obligation, and it can possibly improve a person's credit score when payments are made on time.

If you decide to move forward on the process of buying a home, consider these tips from GMAC Mortgage:

- Attend a first-time buyer workshop to learn about the home-buying and financing process. In addition, there are many online resources, such as smartedgebygm.com, that offer information about financing your first home.

- Check your credit. Be aware that your credit history may affect the interest rate, and the type of mortgage program for which you may qualify. You may want to work on improving your credit before purchasing a home.

- Find an experienced real estate professional. A real estate agent can be invaluable in helping you through the process of buying your first home.

- Get preapproved for a mortgage. It is one of the best ways to determine how large of

Set for June 2 Mission of Deeds charity golf tournament

Mark your calendars for Monday, June 2 when the Mission of Deeds, Inc. holds its 11th Annual Charity Golf Tournament at the Woburn Country Club.

This year's tournament, which has a fundraising goal of $40,000, is a shotgun/straight scramble format with a luncheon buffet, raffle prizes and a silent auction.

The Mission of Deeds, Inc. is a non-profit volunteer organization providing beds, used furniture and household items to individuals and families in need. Since its inception in 1993 almost 7,000 families have received assistance. The organization does not receive any federal, state or United Way funding and relies solely on private donations, foundation grants, and proceeds from fundraising events.

You can participate in the event with a sponsorship ranging from $125 to $5,000 and/or playing a fun round of golf at $500 per foursome or $125 for an individual golfer. Those who do not play golf but would like to attend can purchase a ticket for lunch only.

Those interested in attending or sponsoring the event may contact Beth Ryan at beth.ryan@missionofdeeds.org or 781-944-9797.

Set for May 28 Winter Hill Bank to hold free home buyer seminar

A Homebuyer Seminar sponsored by Winter Hill Bank will be held Wednesday, May 28, 2008 from 6:00pm to 8:30pm at the bank's new building at 271 Main St., Rt. 28 (Shaw's Plaza), North Reading. This seminar is free and will provide valuable information on buying a home in a buyer's market.

According to Pauline D'Aurora, Senior Vice President / Chief Lending Officer, of Winter Hill Bank, "Changes in the real estate market over the past year have left many buyers unsure of when and how to proceed in their pursuit of home ownership. This seminar will provide valuable information to the first-time buyer, the repeat buyer, or anyone seeking to both buy and sell in today's marketplace. Refreshments will be served and attendees will be eligible for free preapproval and a reduction of future closing costs."

Reservations are required and space is limited. You can register from the bank's web site at www.winterhillbank.com or call Giselle at 1-800-444-4300, extension 2222.

a monthly mortgage payment you can afford and will give you an indication of your price range as you shop for homes. You will want a pre-approval letter when you bid on a home, as some sellers may not accept offers from buyers who have not demonstrated some ability to finance the purchase.

"Owning a home is a great opportunity to begin building equity and it can offer numerous other advantages," added Ferriter. "No one should be intimidated by the process involved with buying a home. Using these tips, you can be in your new home sooner than you think."

The Sedgewood

Open floor plan is quite inviting

The compact, country-style Sedgewood could be built as a vacation home, a starter home, or a scaled-down dwelling for empty nesters. Its 41-foot-wide footprint fits neatly on a narrow lot.

Tapered columns seated on stone veneer bases support the roof of the wide, recessed front porch, and decorative corbels highlight the ends of both front-facing gables. Multi-paned windows, a sidelight and a transom also add their sparkle to the front facade.

Family gathering spaces fill the home's left side, while bedrooms line up along the right. The living room and dining room flow together, creating one large, window-bright space at the rear. And that space is open to the kitchen as well.

The long eating bar that rims the peninsular counter shares one edge with the dining room, which allows it to double as a buffet for festive family meals and entertaining. Counters, built-in appliances, and a pantry wrap around three sides of the C-shaped kitchen. Laundry appliances are nearby, yet out of sight, in the pass-through utility room that
